Roosevelt Asks Broad Powers In Balancing Budget

VETERANS' BENEFITS TO BE CUT

Message to Congress Seeks Authority Also to Reduce Government Wages EXPECT OPPOSITION Says Government Has Been on Road to Bankruptcy For Last Three Years

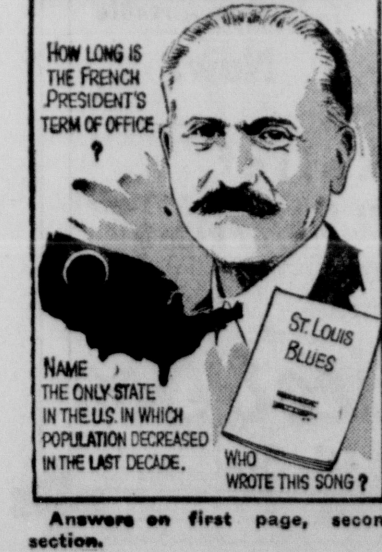

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today asked congress for the power of a dictator in administering reductions in veterans' expenditures and government salaries and balancing the budget. The legislation giving this authority to the president had not been completed when the president's message was delivered. The senate recessed until tomorrow while the house arranged for a special committee to jam through the legislation whenever it is completed. An indication that opposition would develop to Mr. Roosevelt's recommendations for cuts in veterans' benefits came in a statement from Senator Robinson, Rep., Ind., who declared it would be "cowardly" for congress to accede to the president's plan. "America wants no dictator," he said. While the senate is in recess its finance committee will consider the budget recommendations. Budget Director Douglas was completing the legislation and it was expected that it would be ready by 3 p. m., the hour set by Chairman Harrison for the meeting of the finance committee. Budget slashes Mr. Roosevelt, taking one thing at a time in his vigorous drive for a readjustment of government to meet the economic crisis, devoted today's message to budget matters. The next White House move to follow the banking and budget legislation, will be for a $500,000,000 bond issue to aid employment. The president proposed to attack an accumulated deficit of $5,000,000,000 by: 1.—Reductions in payments to veterans. 2.—Repeal of the furlough plan reducing government salaries and substitution of a broader plan for reductions in pay of both civil and military employees.

USERS OF VALLEY POWER MAY STRIKE

FRESNO, Calif., March 10.—(UP)—Threatening a valley-wide power boycott unless agricultural power rates are reduced, a committee of San Joaquin valley farmers today were to serve the San Joaquin Light & Power company with demands for rate cuts. J. M. Eulless, chairman of the committee, said farmers in the valley would meet next Thursday to adopt a power boycott unless company officials assured them rates would be slashed. He said the farmers would establish and maintain community power stations if the boycott actually is enforced.

THREE GUESSES

CERMAK'S SLAYER TO DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Old Buck Deer Makes Pals Of Troopers

PORTLAND, Ore., March 10.—(UP)—Somewhere in the vicinity of the Willamette river today an old buck deer maintained a revolving vigil for three state troopers in a realistic version of an Edgar Rice Burroughs narrative. The deer meekly attached itself to the troopers after they rescued it, virtually exhausted, from the river. They carried it to the highway and released it. As the officers walked away, the deer turned and trotted after the officers, muzzling their coats. For more than a mile, the troopers walked through the woods, then reversed their course, but their companion refused to quit their footsteps. It was not until the officers ran full speed down a hillside that the deer, startled by their sudden action, came to a halt.

Jap Troops Open Drive On Kopeikou

Reports That Chinese Governor Executed Questioned by Leaders

JEHOL CITY, March 10.—(UP)—Japanese troops, striking hard at a budding Chinese counter-attack, opened an offensive around Kopeikou, a portal in the Great Wall of China, today. The offense was aimed at Kopeikou where Chinese had been reported organizing their forces for a direct charge at Nipponese lines. The Japanese columns were supported by ten airplanes which bombarded Chinese positions on the heights of the rocky terrain. The fighting continued over a wide area. Reports that Tang Yo-Lin, Chinese governor of Jehol province, had been executed after fleeing the capital before the Japanese took possession, were questioned here today. Military headquarters understood the deposed official took refuge in the mountain village of Fengsing, 60 kilometers northwest of here. The report said Tang was guarded by 300 troops. His flight and subsequent conquest of the entire province by Japanese troops left the post in the hands of Gen. Chang Hai-Peng, previously appointed by the Manchoukou government. Chang's appointment as chairman of the province was definitely decided today at Changchun, Manchoukou capital. Lieut. Gen. Yashikazu Nishi commanded the advance, while a strong garrison remained in Jehol City to police this zone, occupied by the eighth imperial army last Monday. Today Japanese flags and the flag of Manchoukou were flying over the city.

FIVE DAY WEEK BILL APPROVED IN COMMITTEE

Provisions of Measures to Terminate July 1, 1935 or on Proclamation

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 10.—(UP)—First forward step in the legislative fight to shorten the working day and week was taken last night when the assembly committee on unemployment reductions approved two bills providing a six-hour day and five-day week for state employees and all persons employed on state public works. Approval of the bills was preceded by a spirited debate between spokesmen of labor groups. One bill, introduced by Assemblyman George R. Bliss, Carpinteria, provides for the six-hour day and five-day week on all state public works. The other, submitted by Patrick McMurray, (Continued on Page 2)

25,000 AT FUNERAL OF MAYOR CERMAK

STADIUM, CHICAGO, March 10.—(UP)—A public funeral for Mayor Anton J. Cermak whose life was cut short by an assassin's bullet, was held in this giant stadium today. While 25,000 hushed spectators listened, Governor Henry Horner and Catholic, Protestant and Jewish clergymen eulogized the man who was killed by a bullet intended for President Roosevelt. The governor told of "Tony" Cermak's ascendancy from a Bohemian hamlet to the majority of Chicago. He concluded with word picture of Cermak's relentless battle against crime. The ceremonies, devoid of religious elements, were climaxed with the reading of a telegram of condolence from Mr. Roosevelt.

HOARDED GOLD IS RETURNED TO BANKS

NEW YORK, March 10.—(UP)—The greatest flow of hoarded gold to be returned to the federal reserve bank since the bank holiday started, was brought back today. When the bank closed at 3 o'clock it was learned that between 7500 and 8000 persons had brought in savings of gold coins, gold bullion and gold certificates. Lines of men and women had formed in front of the teller windows since bank opening time. It was impossible to estimate the amount of gold returned, but it will be in excess of the $30,000,000 returned yesterday and will place the amount of gold returned this week well past the $100,000,000 mark.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S BUDGET MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(UP)—Following is President Roosevelt's budget message to congress today: "The nation is deeply gratified by the immediate response given yesterday by the congress to the necessity for drastic action to restore and improve our banking system. A like necessity exists with respect to the finances of the government itself, which requires equally courageous, frank and prompt action. "For three long years the federal government has been on the road toward bankruptcy. "For the fiscal year 1931 the deficit was $462,000,000. "For the fiscal year 1932 it was $2,472,000,000. "For the fiscal year 1933 it probably will exceed $1,200,000,000. "For the fiscal year 1934, based on the appropriation bills passed by the last congress and the estimated revenues the deficit probably will exceed $1,000,000,000 unless immediate action is taken. "Thus we shall have piled up an accumulated deficit of $5,000,000,000. "Not in Order "With the utmost seriousness I point out to the congress the profound effect of this fact upon our national economy. It has contributed to the recent collapse of our banking structure. It has accentuated the stagnation of the economic life of our people. It has added to the ranks of the unemployed. Our government's house is not in order and for many reasons no effective action has been taken to restore it to order. "Upon the unimpaired credit of the United States government rest the safety of deposits, the security of insurance policies, the activity of industrial enterprises. (Continued on Page 2)

SANTA ANA STILL OPPOSED TO COUNTY WATER BILL AS DRAWN; SUB DISTRICTS HIT

OPPOSITION TO the sub-district lines as outlined in a map shown, was expressed at a meeting of representatives of many Orange county communities last night in the city hall which was sponsored by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County. Sub-districts on the map of the proposed water district which would be created through the medium of the new Orange county water bill, as shown, ranged in assessed valuation from $7,000,000 in the Irvine ranch district to $31,000,000 in the coast district. Paul Bailey, engineer who has been connected with the drafting of the bill, outlined the seven proposed sub-districts and said their total assessed valuation is $126,400,000. Lines of the sub-districts were discussed and changes in some of them, particularly the coast district, were proposed to equalize representation according to valuation. During the meeting Clyde Downing, city attorney for Santa Ana, read a resolution adopted at the last meeting of the city council which expressed opposition to the bill as now proposed. In connection with statements made at the meeting last night and with the resolution, Mayor Paul Witmer of Santa Ana today made the following statement: "The Santa Ana city council still stands unreservedly on the resolution adopted opposing the Orange county water bill as now proposed. In regard to the plan now under way to change the sub-district boundaries, an election at large for directors of the various districts would settle the entire question. As a democratic proposition, that is the only fair thing to do. The election should be held at large with directors nominated as candidates from each district."

PLAN GRADUATED PAY SCALE FOR STATE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Mar. 10.—(UP)—A system of restricted employment and a graduated scale of salary reductions for state employees was offered today by a sub-committee of the assembly ways and means committee as a means of saving the state $15,000,000 for the forthcoming biennium. The graduated scale of pay cuts would start with 5 per cent for those receiving up to $100 monthly and range as high as 72 per cent for salaries ranging between $1201 and $1250 monthly. Answering a question asked by Engineer S. H. Fowler, who was introduced by Susanna Bixby Bryant, holder of extensive properties in the county, Bailey said that the bill in its present form would give the Irvine ranch about $500 acre (Continued on Page 2)

HOARDING MUST BE OVER

(An Editorial) Under the emergency act signed by the President, several things are assured. One is that the country will have sufficient money on which to do business; credits will be much easier, owing to the increased facilities for currency through the extension of paper that is eligible for rediscount at the Federal Reserve banks. Another clear fact is that there will be almost no "hoarding" for two reasons—first, because "hoarders", as in the war, are now subject to a heavy penalty and imprisonment. And with the present state of public mind it is very probable that this will be enforced. But secondly, there will not be the incentive there has been for "hoarding", for the uncertainties of bank deposits will be removed. Senator McAdoo has already introduced a measure into Congress to aid in this respect by providing for indemnification of depositors, in any case. Money is already coming out and is being deposited. And the reasons are quite clear, for as a gentleman said to us today: "How dare a man hoard when he knows if he brings his money out later, it is evidence of violation? He must do it now." But with the extension of credit and the greater freedom of money, prices will begin to rise, indeed, they have already begun in certain quarters, which means the increased valuation of collateral and its greater mobility. The very rise of prices will increase the liquidity of all banks. We believe confidence is already restored 50 to 75 per cent, and inside of 90 days, our business life will hardly recognize itself.

Zangara Is Defiant In Court Room

Assassin Tells Judge He Does Not Care; Will Be Taken to Prison

MIAMI, Fla., March 10.—(UP)—Giuseppe Zangara was sentenced to death in the electric chair today for the murder of Mayor Anton J. Cermak of Chicago, whom he shot here Feb. 15 in an attempt to assassinate Franklin D. Roosevelt, then president-elect. Circuit Judge Uly O. Thompson ordered Zangara to stand to be sentenced shortly after he convened court at 10:15 a. m. He read the sentence of death in the electric chair slowly. Defiantly, Zangara accepted the sentence, fairly shouting vituperation at the court, declaring: "You give me electric chair?" "I did," Judge Thompson replied. "I no scared of electric chair. I do what's right. Capitalists crooked. You is crooked man, too. You capitalist. "Put me in electric chair. I no care." Zangara hurled vituperation back over his shoulder at the court as he was led away by deputies after a brief time in court. Prior to passing sentence, Judge Thompson delivered a brief address in which he appealed for congressional action to confiscate all firearms carried without permit. "Assassination attempts, successful or otherwise, would be eliminated," he said, "in the hands of good people, a pistol is harmless." Zangara was remanded back to his cell on the 21st floor of the Dade county courthouse to await action of Governor Dave Sholtz in setting the time and place for his execution. The electrocution will occur at the Florida state prison, Raiford, five days after his admission to that institution.

M'ADOO SEEKS TO INDEMNIFY BANK PATRONS

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(UP)—Senator Vandenberg, Rep., Mich., today introduced a bill for guarantee of time deposits in banks. Senator Dill, Dem., Wash., immediately reintroduced his bill to provide for checking accounts up to $5000 in the postal savings system. Senator McAdoo, Dem., Calif., sponsored a measure to indemnify depositors in federal reserve member banks "and in such other banks as shall comply with requirements prescribed by the federal reserve board" against loss resulting from the failure or suspension of business of such banks. Under the McAdoo program the guarantee would be made possible through a depositors' indemnity fund formed through pro rata assessments against banks and equal to one per cent of the total deposits of banks members in the system. Immediate payment to depositors would be made if the bank were unable to meet its obligations, or if business were suspended. The federal reserve board would be empowered to remove bank officials whose practices were judged to be unsound.

WALKER WILL NOT CONTEST DIVORCE

CANNES, France, March 10.—(UP)—Jimmy Walker, former jaunty playboy mayor of New York City, spent today in his hotel room applying hot irons to cure lumbago, and let it be known that he was grateful to Mrs. Walker for the comparatively harmless grounds of desertion on which she brought suit for divorce in Florida yesterday. He will not contest the suit, and he has no intention of returning to the United States in the near future, Walker said. Reminded that Mrs. Walker had not asked alimony, Walker said it didn't matter because she already had tied up the family money by legal proceedings. The former mayor's attitude today was markedly different from his irate treatment of newspapermen when he returned at dawn to his hotel after a gay gathering with a party of friends at the Ambassador Night club here.

Here's Latest Today On Bank Holiday

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(UP)—Official orders to permit reopening of banks as rapidly as the treasury department approves licenses for them were issued today. Developments aimed at the quickest possible resumption of normal banking came rapidly. 1.—In an executive order President Roosevelt placed the whole matter under control of the treasury. 2.—Banks were directed to apply to their federal reserve banks for licenses to resume operations. 3.—These applications will be referred to Washington for approval.

MOVIE CHIEFS MEET TODAY ON PROPOSED CUTS

Representatives of Five Divisions of Industry Plan Conference

HOLLYWOOD, March 10.—(UP)—A council of war, designed to inquire into the necessity for a pay cut ordered for the entire motion picture industry, was called to meet today while members of 28 labor unions employed in the films were joining with directors and writers in a polite refusal to accept the reduction blindly. Representatives of each of the five divisions of the industry—William K. Howard for the directors; R. P. Schubert, producers; Walter Huston, actors; Howard J. Green, writers, and J. T. Reed, technicians—were to gather at the Acad-

BANK LEGISLATION IN STATE HALTED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 10.—(UP)—The assembly halted progress of the emergency banking bill today when it refused to concur in senate amendments. The bill was sent to free conference of senate and assembly committees. The senate passed the measure yesterday after amending it to allow withdrawal of state, county and city funds upon approval of the state bank superintendent and also to allow banks closed prior to the holiday to reopen if they could meet requirements under the restrictive bill.

HOARDING, UNDER NEW ACT, GRAVE CRIMINAL OFFENSE

HOARDING of gold, silver or currency in the future is going to be one of the gravest of criminal offenses and the penalty will be in keeping. Under the emergency act signed last night by President Roosevelt hoarders are subject to a fine of $10,000 or imprisonment not to exceed 10 years for each offense or both fine and imprisonment. Each day in which gold is unlawfully withheld constitutes a separate offense. Even Federal Reserve banks are required to turn gold back to the federal treasury on demand. The specific section of the act passed yesterday, pertaining to hoarding follows: "During time of war or during any other period of national emergency declared by the President, the President may, through any agency that he may designate, or otherwise, investigate, regulate or prohibit, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, by means of licenses or otherwise, any transactions in foreign exchange, transfers of credit between banking institutions as defined by the President, and export, hoarding, melting, or earmarking of gold or silver coin or bullion or currency by any person within the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof; and the President may require any person engaged in any transactions referred to in this subdivision to furnish under oath, complete information relative thereto, including the production of any books of account, contracts, letters or other papers, in connection therewith in the custody of control of such person, either before or after such transaction is complete. Whoever wilfully violates any of the provisions of this subdivision or of any license, order, rule or regulation issued thereunder, shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than $10,000, or if a natural person, be imprisoned for not more than ten years, or both; and any officer, director, or agent of any corporation who knowingly participates in such violation shall be punished by a like fine, imprisonment, or both. As used in this subdivision the term 'person' means an individual, partnership, association, or corporation." "Today in the United States senate William G. McAdoo of California sponsored a measure to indemnify depositors in federal reserve member banks "and in such other banks as shall comply with requirements prescribed by the federal reserve board" against loss resulting from the failure or suspension of business of such banks.

EXECUTIVE ORDER SENT TO WOODIN

Secretary Given Power to Open Some Institutions For Emergency Business PROBES ARE STARTED

Banking System of Nation Under Direct Dominance of President Roosevelt

BULLETIN WASHINGTON, March 10.—(UP)—The twelve federal reserve banks will be open tomorrow for the purpose of making loans secured by direct obligations of the government as well as to conduct such other business as to permit member banks to carry out obligations under section 10 as amended.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today signed an executive order empowering Secretary of the Treasury Woodin to open some banks today for emergency business. The executive order was expected to make it possible for national and state banks to exercise most of their functions to meet the needs of communities for household expenses, foods, medicines, necessities and the relief of distress.

The White House said it understood telegrams were going out now from the treasury department to the banks informing them of the proclamation. The order in effect gives the bankers large discretionary powers in determining how far they may go in reopening their various departments. The order indicates that most banks will be operating in "substantial volume" probably by Monday morning. It is a matter of only a few days at the furthest "when the banking machinery of the country will be operating again at full speed," Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin said.

Slow Process "The reopening of the banks of the country," Woodin said, "is not to be accomplished in a few hours. In general, the process will be that the secretary of the treasury will receive through the Federal Reserve banks application for reopening by banks which are members of the Federal Reserve system. These applications will be acted upon forthwith. "In the case of the state banks it is provided that applications will be made to the proper state authorities."

"The matter cannot be rushed because we must insure that there are no mistakes and that banks, when opened, must be capable of remaining open. Certain physical difficulties must be overcome; the most important of these is the necessity of getting the new currency available to the banks in order that there will be no delay when they begin to function. "Under the circumstances it is (Continued on Page 2) of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, to confer with a committee of producers, composed of Louis B. Mayer, Winfield Sheehan, Jack L. Warner, Al Kaufman, B. B. Kahane and Fred Beaton.

Decision to cut salaries over $50 weekly by 50 per cent over an eight week period, with a 25 percent slash for those paid less than $50 was reached at a conference in New York Tuesday night. It affected more than 10,000 persons in the industry, and, indirectly, probably 30,000 more.

Several organized groups decried the move, suggesting that their group demand four weeks salary instead, and meanwhile lock into the situation.

The writers, too, denied the authority of their representative on the academy board to accept the cut for their entire body, nearly all represented in the screen writers' guild of the authors' League of America.

Yesterday representatives of 28 labor unions, including the photographers, electricians, projectionists, carpenters, scrip girls, set men and other affiliated orders, voted to oppose the wage reduction, and today carried the resolution to individual unions for concurrence.

Charles Lessing, president of the Federated Motion Picture Studio Crafts, announced the resolution opposing the cut.

While Huston was delegated to represent the actors in the conference today, the players will pick an official representative at a meeting tonight.

It was indicated that the Actor's Equity association, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, would take a hand in opposing the cut.

Many reasons were advanced by those opposing the cut.

First, they claimed the industry was not in as poor shape as it is supposed to be. Secondly, they claimed the huge salaries paid producers, and the tremendous "waste" should first be cut.

Inability to get cash from New York in the present emergency was advanced as the chief reason for the pay cut.

The producers claimed also that theater receipts had fallen off considerably.

The writers and directors countered with the claim that if the weekly payroll at the various studios was dependent so closely upon box-office receipts, the studios had best go into bankruptcy at once.

SANTA ANA STILL OPPOSED TO COUNTY WATER BILL AS DRAWN; SUB DISTRICTS HIT

feet of water more each year than it has at present.

Balley said the boundaries of the sub-districts are tentative and subject to change. The western edge of the proposed district has been set up as being the county line, he said, because of the fact that changing water conditions in underlying basins could effect the basin boundary in the future through pumping operations.

H. L. Sherman of Newport Beach called attention to the fact that the withdrawal clause and levying of tolls on imported water have been dropped. Attorney A. W. Rutan, called the "father" of the bill, explained that cities in the district which are in the Metropolitan Water District have indicated that they would not favor being taxed for importation of water or sewage reclamation and that these two provisions would probably be dropped, leaving only flood control and protection of water rights of the county and adjudication of water rights in the upper Santa Ana basin.

Sherman expressed objection to the boundary for the coast district which contains property with assessed valuation of $21,000,000. He said the assessed valuation of the districts should be equalized.

Mayor E. J. Hughes of Seal Beach pointed out that Seal Beach and Los Alamitos are in the San Gabriel basin and yet are included in the proposed district.

Non-Basin Lands

Answering a question propounded by Ross Shafer, president of Associated, who presided at the meeting, Rutan said that water going to Irvine lands, Laguna Beach, Newport and Fairview Farms, which are non-basin lands, would receive water they necessarily need.

Shafer pointed out that Irvine lands now in the basin could have water pumps on them under terms of the bill. He said the district as proposed runs two miles below Irvine station. This would give Irvine right to 4500 acre feet annually of new water, it was said. The lands not now watered consist of territory south and east in the district.

W. B. Potter, Fullerton city councilman, called attention to the fact that the city of Fullerton is split almost in half with half of the city left although the territory left out has paid money for bonds and water in the past. The city has a right to share in the water rights.

Assessed valuation of the sub-districts as shown at the map exhibits last night are as follows:

Irvine district, $7,000,000; Santa Ana and Tustin district, $26,000,000; Orange, $12,100,000; Coast district, $21,000,000; Anaheim district, $20,700,000; Fullerton, $20,600,000. It is planned, Bailey said, to make Santa Ana one district and to place Tustin in the Orange district.

BOMB ADDRESSED TO ROOSEVELT SIEZED

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Mar. 10.—(UP)—A bomb addressed to President Roosevelt was found in the postoffice here early this week. It was reported reliably today.

Two weeks ago, before Mr. Roosevelt was inaugurated, a crude bomb addressed to him at Washington, and mailed in Watertown, was found in the Washington postoffice.

Postal inspectors, here seeking the sender of the first bomb, refused to discuss the report of the second, but it was understood authoritatively that there was every indication the same person had mailed both bombs.

Police here received a letter a week ago threatening death to "all presidents, governors, millionaires," and promising to "finish the work of Zangara."

ATTEND BANQUET

GARDEN GROVE, March 10.—Members of the Scholarship society of the local high school attended the northern district banquet at the Anaheim Union High school Tuesday evening. A stunt entitled "The Coquette" was presented by the following from Garden Grove: Virginia Stroud, Joy Schmitzer, Richard Keele, Bob Wentz, Ralph Michelson, Lawrence Trickey, others attending from here were Margaret Phillips, Frances Merchant, Fern Schnitzer and Mrs. Marion Williams, the advisor.

Unemployed groups in San Francisco represented by Victor A. Baker and Robert Hogarty opposed the measures on the ground they failed to offer shorter working hours at the existing wage scale.

Frank McDonald, San Francisco, representing the State Building and Trades Council, and Assemblyman Michael Burns upheld the bills. They agreed the work-spreading program would greatly alleviate the distress of California's 300,000 unemployed.

TAKE UP PLANS FOR CONFERENCE SOON

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(UP)—Preliminary conversation with other governments to prepare for the world economic conference will be begun by the United States as soon as the banking crisis is passed, it was learned at the state department today.

It was stated that the United States, under the new administration, will be prepared to discuss at the economic conference all barriers to trade and financial health of the world. This will include a discussion of tariff policy, but not necessarily tariff rates.

ENTERTAINS CLUB

LA HABRA, March 10.—The T. and T. club members met with Mrs. J. A. Donald Wednesday afternoon and spent the afternoon working jigsaw puzzles. Mrs. Willis D. Threlkeld and Mrs. Harlan Hodges were prize winners.

Mrs. T. R. Ashman was honored on her birthday by the club with a cake in yellow and white. Guests present were Mrs. Sterling H. Hood, Mrs. T. R. Ashman, Mrs. R. M. Abbott, Mrs. George Armstrong, Mrs. Harlan Hodges, Mrs. Willis D. Threlkeld.

BROAD POWERS ARE REQUESTED BY ROOSEVELT

The program would reduce government expenses by about $500,000,000.

In the same terse, punchy style that characterized his message on the banking crisis yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt warned that "for three long years the federal government has been on the road toward bankruptcy."

"National recovery, he said, depends upon a sound basis for the unimpaired credit of the United States government."

Exercise Justice

If the powers he asked are given him, the president declared, they "will be exercised in a spirit of justice to all, of sympathy to those who are in need and of maintaining inviolate the basic welfare of the United States."

"It is too late for a leisurely approach to this problem," Mr. Roosevelt informed the special session of congress. "We must not wait to act several months hence. The emergency is accentuated by the necessity of meeting great refunding operations this spring."

The president said that the finances of the government require "courageous, frank and prompt action" just as surely as the banking crisis for which sweeping legislation was enacted at his request yesterday.

The president's message said the deficit for the fiscal year 1931 was $462,000,000 and for 1932 had increased to $2,472,000,000.

"For the fiscal year 1933 it will probably exceed $1,200,000,000," he said.

"Thus we shall have piled up an accumulated deficit of $5,000,000,000."

Regarding the legislation which he is proposing to deal with the situation, Mr. Roosevelt said:

Definite Road

"I am not speaking to you in general terms. I am pointing out a definite road."

"The last congress enacted legislation relating to the reorganization and elimination of executive agencies, but the economies thus to be effected are small when viewed in the light of the great deficit for the next fiscal year. They will not meet the pressing needs of our credit situation. Provision for additional savings is essential, and therefore I am asking the congress today for new legislation laying down broad principles for the granting of pensions and other veteran benefits, and giving to the executive authority to prescribe the administrative details. We are unanimous in upholding the duty of the government to care for those who suffer in its defense and for their widows and orphans. The application, however, of this great principle to large numbers of people involves complications—so great that it is almost impossible to draw legislation with sufficient flexibility to provide substantial relief to the people."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S BUDGET MESSAGE

the value of our agricultural products and the availability of employment. The credit of the United States government definitely affects these fundamental human values. It, therefore, becomes our first concern to make secure the foundation. National recovery depends upon it.

"Too often in recent history liberal governments have been wrecked on rocks of loose fiscal policy. We must avoid this danger."

"It is too late for a leisurely approach to this problem. We must not wait to act several months hence. The emergency is accentuated by the necessity of meeting great refunding operations this spring."

Pledges Economy

"We must move with a direct and resolute purpose now. The members of the congress and I pledged to immediate economy."

"I am, therefore, assuming that you and I are in complete agreement as to the urgent necessity, and my constitutional duty is to advise you as to the methods for obtaining drastic retrenchment at this time."

"I am not speaking to you in general terms. I am pointing out a definite road."

"The last congress enacted legislation relating to the reorganization and elimination of executive agencies, but the economies thus to be effected are small when viewed in the light of the great deficit for the next fiscal year. They will not meet the pressing needs of our credit situation. Provision for additional savings is essential, and therefore I am asking the congress today for new legislation laying down broad principles for the granting of pensions and other veteran benefits, and giving to the executive authority to prescribe the administrative details. We are unanimous in upholding the duty of the government to care for those who suffer in its defense and for their widows and orphans. The application, however, of this great principle to large numbers of people involves complications—so great that it is almost impossible to draw legislation with sufficient flexibility to provide substantial relief to the people."

justice in varying situations. The proposed legislation states the principles and, limited by them, permits the executive to draw the lines of differentiation necessary to justice.

Asks Legislation

"In accord with the same purpose of substantial justice I request also the enactment of legislation relating to the salaries of civil and military employees of the government. This would repeal the existing furlough plan, substituting therefore a general principle and authorizing the executive to make application of this principle. The proper legislative function is to fix the amount of expenditure, the means by which it is to be raised and the general principles under which the expenditures are to be made. The details of expenditures particularly in view of the great present emergency can be more wisely and equitably administered through the executive. The flexibility of the measures which I am proposing is not only practical but proceeds along the road of constitutional government."

"Such economies which can be made will, it is true, affect some of our citizens; but the failure to make them will affect all our citizens. The very stability of our government itself is concerned when that is concerned the benefits of some must be subordinated to the needs of all."

"When a great danger threatens our basic security it is my duty to advise the congress of the way to preserve it. In so doing I must be fair not only to the few but to the many. It is in this spirit that I appeal to you. If congress chooses to vest with this responsibility I am exercising in a spirit of justice to all, of sympathy to those who are in need and of maintaining inviolate the basic welfare of the United States."

"I ask that this legislation go into effect at once without even waiting for the beginning of the next fiscal year. I give you assurance that if this is done there is reasonable chance of the government will be sufficient to cover the expenditures of the government."

A WORD OF COMFORT

Merely knowing that wrong doing on his part will sadden his mother, will not deter a child from bad conduct unless he loves his mother dearly.

The recognition of God's love for you will not give power for righteousness in your life except as you learn to love Him. Your love for Him cannot grow strong except as you commune with Him and strive to live worthily for His sake.

As you give rein to your love for Him, your duty will become clear and your tasks easy. He will sustain and guide you so that you can live triumphantly.

WILL EFFECT ORGANIZATION. OUTLINE WORK

Permanent organization of the county-wide debt and tax conciliation committee will be effected Monday night at a dinner-meeting to be held at Ketter's cafe. The meeting is being called by R. D. Flaherty, as executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Formation of the committee was sponsored by the Farm Bureau and in his letter calling the organization meeting Flaherty is asking that all organizations and groups to be represented on the committee send their permanent representatives to the conference.

Organizations cooperating in formation of the conciliatory and arbitration group are: Associated Chambers of Commerce, board of supervisors, superior court, Orange County Bar association, Orange County Building and Loan association, American Legion, Costa Mesa Taxpayers' association, banking houses and the Farm Bureau.

At the Monday night session, which is scheduled to start at 6:30 p. m., a permanent organization will be effected and a chairman and secretary elected. A program of procedure also will be outlined for adoption.

Following its organization the committee will start functioning as a voluntary arbitration or conciliation committee before which any persons in distressed conditions due to threatened mortgage or trust deed foreclosure on his home or farm, who has not been able to reach some agreement with his creditors for maintaining possession of his property during this present trying period, can present his case.

Work of the committee has been greatly assisted, according to Flaherty, through the legislature yesterday adopting an emergency measure declaring a 60-day moratorium on mortgage foreclosures.

This moratorium will give the committee opportunity to place its program in operation.

What Life Insurance Has Done During These Depression Years

PAID TO LIVING POLICY-HOLDERS 1930 - 31 - 32

POLICY LOANS $2,048,678,000.00
MATURED ENDOWMENTS 230,948,000.00
SURRENDER VALUES 1,414,252,000.00
DIVIDENDS 212,583,000.00
OTHER PAYMENTS 337,882,000.00

TOTAL $4,244,343,000.00
Death Claims and the Above Amount Combined Total $6,169,609,000.00

These are actual cash disbursements. The figures are taken from the records of 48 of the leading companies holding 86.4 per cent of the admitted assets of all old line life insurance companies in the United States.

This cash went to every city and town throughout the nation.

RECEIPTS BY THE SAME COMPANIES IN THE SAME THREE YEARS PERIOD

PREMIUMS $7,586,082,000.00
INTEREST, DIVIDENDS AND RENT 2,195,116,000.00

TOTAL $9,781,198,000.00

Deducting cash payments to policyholders and beneficiaries, other than policy loans, there was a cash residue of $5,660,867,000.00. A large margin for safety, counting all payments there was a cash residue of $3,612,169,000.00 over 36.9 per cent.

INCREASE IN ASSETS

ON DECEMBER 31, 1932 $19,000,000,000.00
ON DECEMBER 31, 1929 16,000,000,000.00

INCREASE $3,000,000,000.00

Certainly an institution which can solve the complexity of problems that life insurance has solved during the past three years, meets all of its policyholders' extraordinary demands for cash, and still shows almost a 19 per cent gain in assets, is an institution founded upon the most nearly perfect system of cooperative saving, investment and protection yet devised.

ANAHEIM BOOST BODY ACTS ON WATER MEASURE

The Anaheim Chamber of Commerce yesterday accepted part of the recommendation made them by the water committee and endorsed two parts of the Orange County Water District bill, which has been under study for the past several weeks and is now before the state legislature. The board meeting was held in the Elks clubhouse.

The Anaheim Chamber of Commerce board voted for the first two of the four parts in the bill, namely, to protect water rights in the county and to take care of flood waters.

The endorsement followed an explanation of the bill made by Paul Bailey, engineer, of Santa Ana. All questions were answered by A. W. Rutan, also of Santa Ana. The water committee has been studying this bill and meeting with representatives from the other cities in the Metropolitan Water district, Fullerton and Santa Ana. It was their recommendation that brought the bill before the civic body. On the committee are Dean Wayne, Louis Hoskins, J. W. Price, Leo Sheridan and George W. Reid.

Reid, as secretary of the chamber of commerce, was instructed to write to the state legislature and notify the body that the Anaheim chamber has endorsed the resolution asking that eight of the 16 trustees to the board of regents of the University of California be selected from the southern part of the state and eight from the northern part of the state.

SANTA ANA BANKS REPORT LARGE SUMS FLOWING BACK AS CONFIDENCE RETURNS

Confidence in the banking situation in Santa Ana appeared to have crystallized yesterday and today as a definite movement by depositors in opening new cash demand accounts in banks was noted by bank officials.

Thousands of dollars worth of gold was dug up or taken out of the "old sock" as banks in the city reported receiving considerable amounts of gold. Hoarding appeared to be on the wane as hundreds of people took large sums out of safety deposit vaults and placed the money in new accounts or used some of it for current expenses.

The dramatic action of President Roosevelt in handling the national banking emergency instilled confidence in residents of the city, according to those in close touch with the situation. Every bank in the city reported that many new large accounts, many of them amounting to thousands of dollars, were opened yesterday. They were still coming in today to deposit money in the banks. Although banks are theoretically closed by presidential proclamation, regulations permit receipt of new deposits.

The manager of one local bank expressed amazement at the amount of money which was deposited in his bank yesterday and which was still coming in today.

One woman, loyal to the terms of the national program, produced a three-dollar gold piece, an unusual coin, at a bank and took her three one-dollar silver currency notes with her. The government wanted gold, so she gave it, the bank official explained.

Bankers here say that not much gold is usually found in smaller cities, most of it being located in the larger centers.

Thrones of people lined up at the Santa Ana postoffice postal savings department window yesterday depositing money with "Uncle Sam." There were few depositing money in the postal savings today, however, according to postal officials.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon most banks in Santa Ana had not received application blanks from the federal reserve board for re-opening under the terms specified in congress. A. J. Cruikshank, president of the First National bank, left for Los Angeles this afternoon to get definite information regarding the applications and terms of re-opening.

At no cost you may now include four extra words in a telegram, H. D. Hodges, Santa Ana manager of the Western Union Telegraph company announced today, as long as the four words mean "reply by Western Union."

What Was It About the Bird In Hand?

These bank holidays do not bother Justice Kenneth E. Morrison.

A couple walked into his court today to be married. After the ceremony, the man said: "Judge, I'll either give you a check for $5 or two one dollar bills. Which shall it be?"

Judge Morrison paid cash for his groceries at noon today.

LEGION PLANS TRIP TO SEE FAMOUS SHIP

Regular business was transacted at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana post, American Legion, last night, with some 123 members of the post in attendance.

The feature of the evening was the entertainment, which consisted of several song numbers by the Julia Lathrop Junior High school glee club. Approximately 60 youngsters were in the club, under direction of Edith Cornell, and their program was greatly enjoyed.

Announcement was made that March 17, St. Patrick's day, would be the official Legion Day for the viewing of the U. S. S. Constitution, "Old Ironsides," which will be in Long Beach at that time. Legion posts throughout Southern California will see the ship on that date and plans are being made for the Legion to sponsor trips from the various towns to Long Beach for school children.

The school authorities here will be notified by the local post and the Legion will arrange transportation to and from the ship. Persons who have automobiles which they desire to donate for the trip should communicate either with Jules Markel, of the post, or Mrs.

Julia McGill, of the Legion auxiliary.

Drum corps from various Legion units also will stage a parade in Long Beach on that date.

The post last night talked about renovating the club rooms, but the present financial condition caused any possible action to be tabled temporarily. It was stated that some 1400 would put the building in desirable condition both for the Legion and for the National Guard units which rent from the Legion.

In the absence of Commander J. B. Tucker, First Vice Commander Harold Brown presided.

In order to prevent the city of Syracuse from reverting to the Ojondaga Indians, the state of New York gives members of the tribe 16 pounds of salt every year to keep up terms of a treaty made in 1795.

COURT NAMES BLYTHE ESTATE ADMINISTRATOR

L. K. Stamps of Downey, recently appointed special administrator of the estate of Dr. Vernon Blythe through an order signed this morning by Presiding Judge G. K. Sevel, of the superior court.

At the time of filing petition for appointment of Stamps as special administrator, Z. B. West, attorney for Stamps, filed a petition for his appointment as permanent administrator. Stamps recently was appointed guardian of young Blythe, 12-year-old son of the Santa Ana dentist who was orphaned several weeks ago when his father killed his estranged wife, a younger son and then committed suicide.

Objection to the appointment of Stamps as permanent administrator for the estate is expected to be entered by Mrs. Mary E. Blythe, of Los Angeles, mother of the late Dr. Blythe. Mrs. Blythe already has filed a petition in Los Angeles seeking to be appointed guardian of the Blythe boy and a second petition asking appointment as administrator.

At the hearing in Los Angeles on her application for appointment as guardian of the boy, West objected on the grounds that Stamps already had been appointed in the courts of Orange county. The court in Los Angeles sustained the objection on jurisdictional grounds.

In sustaining the objection the court declared that the guardianship petition could have been filed in either Los Angeles or Orange county but as it had been filed in Orange county it could not be attacked in the Los Angeles court. Such action, according to the ruling, would have to be launched in Orange county.

GETS YEAR IN JAIL ON BAD CHECK CHARGE

James Melvin Kittie, who recently pleaded guilty to issuing worthless checks was granted probation this morning by Judge James L. Allen, for a period of five years with the proviso that he spend the next year in the county jail.

Mrs. Jane Gray, proprietress of a Seal Beach rooming house pleaded guilty in superior court this morning to a misdemeanor charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and asked for probation. Judge Allen set March 17 as the date for hearing on the application.

When first arrested in a raid on her rooming house Mrs. Gray was charged with a statutory offense involving a 16-year-old girl who is a ward of the Los Angeles juvenile court. The felony charge was dismissed and the misdemeanor charge substituted.

William Davidson, arrested in connection with the same case, was arraigned this morning on an information charging him with rape. The court appointed Attorney Otto Jacobs to defend Davidson and after a conference with his client, Jacobs asked for and was granted one week in which to enter a plea.

Melvin Neff and Adrian Caraball, accused of burglary, took advantage of the holiday and declined to waive their rights and their arraignment was continued until next Friday. Neff and Caraball are accused of burglarizing the dwelling of Juan Etchebarren on the Murphy Coyote lease.

DISMISS COMPLAINT BECAUSE OF DEATH

A charge against Bruce Struthers, of Santa Ana, charging non-support of his wife, was dismissed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today on motion of the district attorney.

The wife has died. Struthers was never arrested because, according to the sheriff's office, he is out of the state and has been since the complaint was filed, September 15, 1931.

Mrs. Ruth Struthers, the wife, died at her home at 1011 Lowell street, on January 22, the records show.

Fifth Charge Of Burglary Faced By Jack Sandow

Already in jail awaiting trial on four counts of burglary and one of escaping from a police officer, Jack Sandow appeared this morning before Superior Judge James L. Allen for arraignment on a fifth count of burglary.

Sandow waived his right to a delay in the proceedings until after the holiday decreed by Gov. James Rolph, and pleaded not guilty to the new charge. In the new charge he is accused of having burglarized the home of J. W. Estes on the night of November 12.

Sandow is to go on trial for the four counts of burglary and one of escape, contained in the first charge against him, on March 30. District Attorney S. B. Kaufman asked that the second charge be included for trial at the same time. This motion was opposed by A. P. Nelson, representing Sandow. His second trial was set for March 28.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Editor, Santa Ana Register:

Was there ever a time in the history of our country when there was so great a need for safe depositories for the people's savings as now?

Would it not be great if the citizens of Santa Ana had a bank owned, controlled and operated by the Federal government in which to deposit their money?

Although the need is so very great, yet the demand for such an institution is small. A crying need with so small a demand is not easy to understand.

There is a great demand just now by depositors for the government to guarantee their deposits, but just why these depositors wish to deposit their money in private banks and then have the government guarantee the safe-keeping and safe investment in which to deposit their money, is not small wonder to the writer.

If the Federal government must insure depositors against the loss of their deposits, then the wise and only practical way to do this is to do it directly, without the intervention of any other institution whatever.

Confidence can never be restored in a system or institution that has proven itself to be an "abject failure."

We must put "new wine in new bottles" if we would go forward and build the new civilization which is the desire of all nations.

Truly,

TUBERCULOSIS IS SUBJECT FOR CLUB

Dr. Waldo S. Wehrly presented an interesting study of the causes and cure of tuberculosis before the health education group of the young men's service club of the Y. M. C. A. at its weekly meeting last night. By means of pictures and lecture he set up the problem in a manner that was illuminating and useful for the men, both as to their own protection and as to their help in the work of prevention.

The current topics group had a warm discussion of the war between Japan and China, under the direction of Dean W. Campbell, while the public speaking group heard from Bert H. Lawver some suggestions on how to open and close a speech in a successful manner. These three groups meet together for supper each Thursday evening at 6:15, separating at seven for an hour of study and discussion of their respective topics. Dr. E. L. Russell, who has the direction of the club, states that young men generally are welcome, and are invited to take advantage of the educational and social opportunities offered by the groups.

ASK PASSAGE OF MEASURE ON FRUIT PRORATE

Compulsory prorating of agricultural crops, particularly citrus, was endorsed and Orange county's state legislators asked to endorse the Meeker bill through action taken yesterday by the citrus department of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Members of the citrus department went on record as approving compulsory prorating of citrus crops as provided in the Meeker bill. Under that proposed legislation, California's citrus crop would be prorated under supervision of a commission appointed annually by the governor.

It was also decided yesterday that special committees of the department working on special duties assigned them will start reporting at weekly meetings of the department. The first report will be submitted next week by Dr. D. D. Waynick, chairman of the stabilization committee. His report will outline the value of stabilization in the citrus industry.

A number of valuable tools were in easy reach of the thieves, but these were not taken.

HOBBY

President Hoover left behind one Washington record. He has his name on more cornerstones than any other man in history.

It is on the new Supreme Court Building, the great Commerce Department Building, the Archives Building, the Post Office Building, the Department of Justice Building.

Two weeks ago the cornerstone was laid for the Archives Building. It cost between $3000 and $5000 to build seats for spectators. The building really wasn't ready for a cornerstone. In fact mechanics worked overtime for days in advance and still the cornerstone was the only piece of limestone on the job when it was laid. Then it was propped up on supports for the ceremony.

Moreover, so few people came to fill the $3000 worth of seats that Treasury Department men and women employees had to be drafted to make the necessary showing.

pretty sure they have found the right answer.

Information from the best sources indicates that the most powerful British authorities would not be averse to trading their depreciated currency advantage for their old position as the leading creditor nation. They knew how to make the art of being a creditor pay dividends.

But England cannot resume the role while she is debtor for vast sums to the United States and she cannot—in view of her aim—afford the luxury of repudiation.

Therefore the strategy will be to arrange a final settlement on any workable terms. Despite official denials this could involve a return to the gold standard at a much higher rate than current sterling exchange.

The steady acquisition of gold by the Bank of England helps to pave the way. It also helps—by strengthening the stabilization fund—the interim objective of keeping sterling as low as possible as a bargaining point.

Events here and in France have necessitated strenuous efforts by the British to keep the pound where they want it. A week ago they were short of their own currency to the tune of 130,000,000 pounds. It's a bit unusual to find a nation betting against its own money on such a scale.

FINANCING

Plans for March 15th Treasury financing were in abeyance when the new Treasury Secretary came in. It is deemed certain then that the Government will have to pay a stiffer interest rate. The raising of the Federal Reserve rediscount rate—while adopted for an entirely different purpose—was rated as sure to end the period of artificial easy money for the Treasury's benefit.

New York applies the ill wind adage to the crisis in the banking situation. It is expected to lead to more earnest efforts to balance the budget and to put a long-term damper on the prospective five billion dollar public works issue. Men of ability and experience are saying that the end of the depression will date from this facing of facts.

BUDGET

William H. Woodin has been radiating optimism among his New York friends about real progress on the budget within sixty days. He intimates that Congress at its special session will be in a frame of mind to accept any recommendations the President may make on financial subjects.

No attempt will be made to include capital outlay items in the budget-balancing act. Current items will be strictly segregated and if they are covered everyone will be happy.

CITY

New York City started last week trying out a novel financing scheme. Baby bonds in $20 denominations were being offered to taxpayers with the provision that they would be accepted in payment of taxes when they are due. Interest rates were set above savings bank figures but cheaper than the cost of borrowing from commercial banks. Other cities are expected to watch the experiment with interest.

ECONOMY

The National Economy League is about to sprout a new set of feathers. Its silk-stocking origin and limited program has held the membership down to 200,000—which could make no headway against the Legion. Now the idea is to broaden the program and become a sort of vigilante organization with aggressive patriotic principles. A publicity campaign can be expected soon.

COPPER

The report is current that Anaconda Copper has persuaded its banking creditors to convert its demand loans into long-term obligations. This would make its current liabilities look a lot prettier and Wall Street is watching for the next balance sheet with interest.

GOLD

Up to March 4 the list of people who had withdrawn gold recently from banks in New York and vicinity showed 90 per cent foreign names.

GERMANY

Deutsche Bank in Germany have through Com. and Socialists but also a great many liberals and Jews into a state of panic. Steps will be undertaken privately within the next few days to ascertain whether the United States Government would stretch a point in its rigid application of the immigration laws in order to help German refugees. Assurances will be given that only such persons will apply for visas whose support in this country is guaranteed.

Similar moves are contemplated in Switzerland and Holland. Officials in both of these countries have refused so far to commit themselves even in private.

EDUCATOR SAYS IGNORANCE CAUSE OF ATTEMPT TO CUT SCHOOL BUDGETS IN STATE

NEWPORT BEACH, March 10. — Speaking on the topic, "Turning in with the Schools," yesterday in the main auditorium of the Newport Harbor Union High school, Dr. Harvey L. Eby, associate professor of education at the University of California at Los Angeles, said that in his mind, the present efforts to try to cut down the school budgets by legislation, shows that we are not suffering from the high cost of education, but from the high cost of ignorance.

To verify his statement, Dr. Eby quoted figures showing that for every dollar spent for education, eight dollars are actually wasted in poorly managed industries. He further said that the schools are willing to and have within the past few years cut their expenses over twenty-seven percent and he could not see why they should make further cuts without something very constructive being done about this industrial waste.

When asked what he thinks is the real motive behind the 300 different bills that are now before the state legislature concerning the schools, he stated that it is his opinion that it is big business and our present profit system trying to keep the oncoming generation ignorant by closing the schools. He also stated that our schools are at present the best ever and to cut out any of the so-called "frills" would be wrong. What we need he says is to continue to improve the public schools, teach more initiative, and keep their management out of politics.

Professor S. H. Davidson, principal of the local high school, and at one time a student in one of Dr. Eby's classes, introduced the speaker. Professor Davidson also commented briefly on the school for expense situation, showing that Orange county has made a cut in school expenses far greater than the average for the state. He also expressed his opinion that big business is a menace to our school and church systems.

Professor Henry Abrams, principal of the Costa Mesa grammar schools, spoke briefly on the local school situation. Dr. Eby's lecture was the ninth of a series of lectures given by some of the leading educators of California, making up a course in adult education. Mrs. J. R. McClure, an officeholder in the Newport Beach P-T. A., presided at these meetings.

HOLLAND MOTIF USED AT MARCH CHURCH EVENT

ORANGE, March 10.—The wood-shoes and quaint costumes, so closely associated with Holland, were greatly in evidence yesterday when the March group of hostesses for the Friendship chain of the First Presbyterian church entertained other women of the church with a tea, the theme of which was centered around Holland, Mrs. H. S. Taylor headed the hostess group.

Gay prints of scenes in Holland and of the people of that country, decorated the walls of the lower auditorium of the church where the tea took place and a calendar direct from Holland and a map of the country were loaned to the group through the courtesy of Dr. L. Was of Santa Ana.

Mrs. E. H. Smith, head of the chain for the year introduced the chairman of the day, Mrs. Anna Dilley, in a costume direct from Holland, made a charming Dutch girl, as she related the story of a Dutch girl's life and the everyday events which take place in Holland. Mrs. Dilley's father was a native of Holland. Mrs. Dilley told of the wide fireplaces in the homes and of the extreme cleanliness, where windows are washed both inside and out each week and where no one is allowed to wear their shoes inside the homes. All changes in the business world are made on May 13, Mrs. Dilley said.

Dutch folk dances and songs were given by two charming little girls, Joan Barker and Billie Wiseman. A history of the art of Holland and a resume of the commercial world as well as a history of religion, were given by Mrs. Jerry Youngs. Of especial interest were the portions of the talk which told of the pilgrims sojourn in Holland before they set sail for America.

Joost, as they sang a Dutch lullaby. Mrs. C. B. Harper, in a Dutch man's costume made in Holland, gave an amusing reading.

John Spykerman, of Anaheim, a native of Holland, gave a short talk, telling of the pleasure that was his in seeing the many articles about the room which had come from Holland where he had lived as a boy.

Exercises which are common in Holland, were given by a group of high school girls, Malinda Walker, Doris Asher, Helen Price, Clara Meyer, Alberta Hill, Della Shepherd and Bethel Hedrick. Miss Asher sang a solo earlier on the program and she was accompanied by Miss Nancy Herrington.

Tea was served and tables were centered with Dutch figurines and candles. Mrs. E. L. Meyer had on display a brass duster which had been in her family for many years and which was used and made in Holland. Mrs. Michael Esma had a cloth with which, one of the tea tables was spread, the cover being hand woven and embroidered by Mrs. Estock when she was a girl in Czechoslovakia.

The decorations were arranged by Mrs. Henry Meier and the program by Mrs. Dilley. Hostesses nearly of all of whom were in Dutch costumes included Mesdames Anna Dilley, A. O. Clifford, William Cook, E. M. Culter, C. W. Hollister, Lynde, Henry Meier, W. A. Settle, W. E. Anderson, Ross Anthony, P. G. Athey, Clarence Baker, W. F. Crist, O. K. Dean, N. T. ## PICTURES OF $100 DONATED OLYMPICS ARE TO CHURCH BY SHOWN LIONS SAID SOCIETY

ORANGE, March 10.—The Olympic games were enjoyed in retrospect, Wednesday, when members of the Lions club met at the American Legion clubhouse for their regular weekly meeting, as they were shown by Dean Smith of the Southern California Telephone company, included swimming, the equestrian events and the closing ceremonies.

The pictures of the obstacle race in the equestrian events proved of great interest when Baron T. Nishi of Japan was the winner on American mount, Uranus, which he had ridden but one day previous.

The closing ceremonies with the extinction of the great Olympic torch and the accompanying impressive ceremonies which marked the close of tenth Olympic games.

Dr. C. M. Baker was program chairman and Burl Wing, president was in the chair. The attendance was announced and team captains are Martell Thompson and Gene Hart.

CHURCH TO SHOW CHRIST PICTURE

ORANGE, March 10.—Sunday evening services at 7:30 o'clock in the First Christian church will be featured by the showing of the large print and stereoscopic slide of the recent American pictures of Christ, the work of Colonel Henry Stanley Todd, it was announced today by the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor.

In speaking of the painting, the pastor quoted Dr. S. Parks Cadman of New York, who said, "I greatly admire this picture. Colonel Todd brings out the strength and virility of Christ, which have usually been missed by artists."

In keeping with the theme of the picture, the Rev. Mr. Minck will give a sermon on "Behold, the Man." Music will be furnished by the high school choir, under the direction of Mrs. Christine Lambert. Mrs. Nelita Wolfe will be piano accompanist.

CONCEDE PILLOW FIGHT GOOD CHANCE TO BAG BORDER RACE

AGUA CALIENTE, March 10.—Pillow Fight lasting with rare game-ness though palpably "short." Pillow Fight took all the worst of it. At the start Hokuaka came sharply over in leaving the stalls. He bumped into Pillow Fight and knocked the Anzac into Bahamas, so that he suffered doubly. Pollard was lucky to keep him on his feet. Pillow Fight losing a couple of lengths when the jam occurred.

Then the boy proceeded to lose his head. He shot his mount into contention with a blazing burst of speed, clockers on the backstretch timing his quarter in 22. Striding high like Phar Lap—head aloft—he acted green on the turn due to an unfamiliarity with American ways. Pollard tapped him to prevent him running wild.

On the home turn Pillow Fight advanced to full command, accounting for all others save Bahamas. The latter set out for the New Zealand, hooking him seventy yards from the line. Bahamas, tightened by many races this season, labored to the full extent of his powers to beat a horse that needed the race.

The effort of Pillow Fight was considered in most quarters better than that of Gallant Sir when the latter made his season debut here in a sprint. Gallant Sir beat Lem-on Hills by a nose in 1:11. Pillow Fight was beaten a head in 1:11 with the track a trifle slower than on Gallant Sir's day as is attested by the time comparisons of other races during the day.

On the other hand Pillow Fight, a mile-and-a-half horse, turned into a sprinter in a most amazing way. Americans were shocked to see the outlander outrun our speedy ones. To take the lead away from horses like Hokuaka, Whizz James and Bahamas a horse must have something in the way of speed. When Pillow Fight dashed into command in a way reminiscent of Phar Lap's electric backstretch spurt, men and women shouted themselves hoarse. They were rooting for the stranger—it seemed—the horse with Phar Lap's blood—the horse that runs like Phar Lap—and acts like Phar Lap.

Bahamas just did nip him—Pillow Fight.

SPORTS BULLETINS

GREEN BAY, Wis., March 10.—(INS)—Verne Lewellyn, veteran halfback of the Green Bay Packers, professional football team, was in a serious condition today, doctors said, following an appendicitis operation performed Tuesday night.

Although his condition is grave Lewellyn has a chance to recover, his physicians said. He formerly was district attorney in Brown county.

Lewellyn captained the 1923 University of Nebraska football team.

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—(INS)—The New York Giants, with plenty of cash available, will buy another outfielder and a pitcher before the season starts, according to Manager Bill Terry. "Dazzy" Vance, former Brooklyn ace now with the Cardinals, is believed to be the pitcher sought.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., March 10.—(INS)—The thrill of missing a perfect bowling score of 300 by only three pins was believed today to have caused the death of George Fitzgerald, 29. He rolled 11 consecutive strikes but toppled only 7 pins with his last effort. He immediately was stricken with a heart attack, and died a few hours later.

COAST LEAGUE SCHOOLS OPEN 1933 SCHEDULE

What remains of one of the most powerful prep track teams ever assembled in California comes to Poly field here tomorrow for the first Coast Preparatory league cinchdown meet of 1933.

Long Beach Poly, champions of Southern California and winner of the '32 State meet as well, goes against Santa Ana HI at 2 o'clock with another well balanced team, even if its strength is considerably less potent than a year ago.

Captain Gordon Lewis, perhaps the best hurdler in the south, and Johnny Seja, a swarthy miler who finished second in the all-conference meet last season, are the only lettermen on Coach Norman Barker's roster. Nevertheless, the Jack-rabbits bring here capable newcomers who figure to have enough strength in certain events to overpower "Chuck" Webber's Saints, just as Long Beach always has had too much balance for Santa Ana in everything except football. Several Class B graduates, including Bill Barber, brother of Dick, the former Trojan broad-jumper, add lustre to the Rabbit caravan.

Strong in the shot, sprints, hurdles and broad jump, Santa Ana promises to make the meet unusually close although probably not close enough.

Floyd Montgomery, captain of Webber's force, is a "triple threat" man who should win the broad jump and high jump, and run Lewis is a warm second in the low sticks.

Husky Art Stranake is conceded the shot put, and he may be ready to smash Normie Paul's school record of 49:10. Bruce Swishnell and Major Anderson are sprinters who should pick up their share of points.

Competition will be conducted in three classes—A, B and C. No admission will be charged.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS . . . By Laufer

TED LYONS

With its confidence restored after a week of hard drill, Santa Ana junior college's baseball team collides with Compton at Poly field tomorrow at 2:15 hopeful of averaging a 7 to 2 defeat which the Tartars handed Coach Clyde Cook's Dons at Compton last week.

It will be another practice game, preparing Santa Ana and Compton for their respective Orange Empire and Western division schedules which begin April 8. The Dons and Tartars also will clash here April 1, according to present plans.

Poor defensive work, rather than ineffective hurling, was responsible for Santa Ana's first defeat. Offensively, the Dons showed sufficient power by gathering eight hits, enough to win most games.

There will be only one change in the Don lineup. Bill McDaniels, who hit well last week, will go to center field in place of Wendell Kanawyer. Kanawyer sprained his ankle in practice.

Santa Ana's regular battery of Earl Homan, pitcher, and "Bono" Koral, catcher, will be supported by Fred Bell at first, Joe Koral at second, Henry Thierly at short and Verl Moyer at third. Reserves Doug McAdam, Dave Whitford, Dick Clark, Art Wilde and Leo Morse probably will see action if the Don regulars make a good start.

Compton plans to use its regular lineup of Everley or Pearl, pitcher; Bracht, c; Stamper, 1b; Martel, 2b; McEwen, ss; Malsed, 3b; Wilde, lf; Foster, cf; and Schulte, rf.

Allen ("Red") Kidder, star third baseman and 1932 team captain, is organizing a baseball team among Saint alumni to meet Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana high school nine in a practice game at Poly field next week.

The alumni will be in a position to place an unusually strong team on the field, with such former players as Marvin Johnston and "Babe" Gordon, pitchers; Fred Bell, "Bono" Koral, Hideo Higashi, Joe Koral, Jim Hall, Earl Homan, Orv Schuchardt and George Preble available.

The 1933 Saint varsity was scheduled for a practice game with Long Beach Woodrow Wilson at Poly field this afternoon.

PARIS, March 10.—(UP)—The French Boxing federation today suspended W. L. (Willie-the-Clutch) Stribling of Georgia for three months because of his assaulting Pierre Champion of Belgium, heavyweight champion of Europe.

The fight referee disqualified Stribling in the eighth round.

In addition to suspending Stribling in France, the federation appealed to the International Boxing federation for a world-wide ban on the "King of the Canebreakers" for three months.

Santa Ana high school's interclub basketball series had progressed far enough today to establish the Sigmas as 1933 champions in W. W. ("Bill") Foote's first annual court tournament.

The Sigmas, virtually as strong as Santa Ana's varsity, eliminated the Owls, another good quintet, by a score of 70-40 in Andrews gymnasium this week, trimmed the Delos club 32-17, and accepted a forfeit from the Engineers to install themselves as champions. The lineup:

Sigmas (70) . . . . . (40) Owls
Yonel (16) . . . . . F. . . . . (10) Kidder
Nisley (16) . . . . . E. . . . . (10) Sprague
Wiener (20) . . . . . M. . . . . (10) Mitchell
Wimbush (11) . . . . . G. (15) Prentiss
Schwartz (7) . . . . . G. (15) Manning

Substitutions:
Sigmas—Buchelester for Wimbush, Wimbush for Schwartz for Buchelester, Owens-Tucker (2) for Mitchell, Blee for Prentiss.

WEST LOS ANGELES—Win Balou, Charley Moncrief and Hal Siltzel will pitch Sunday's game against the Sawtelle town team, Manager Jack Lelivelt of the Los Angeles Angels announced today.

LONG BEACH—Manager Oscar Vitti's Hollywood Stars will meet George Stovall's crack Houghton "ark team" at Shell Oil park Saturday and Sunday, and the New York Giants Monday.

NEW YORK, March 10.—(UP)—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion, denied a report that he was engaged to marry Anny Ondra, Czechoslovakian film star, his manager, Joe Jacobs, announced last night.

SCHMELING DENIES TROTH TO ACTRESS

What remains of one of the most powerful prep track teams ever assembled in California comes to Poly field here tomorrow for the first Coast Preparatory league cinchdown meet of 1933.

Long Beach Poly, champions of Southern California and winner of the '32 State meet as well, goes against Santa Ana HI at 2 o'clock with another well balanced team, even if its strength is considerably less potent than a year ago.

Captain Gordon Lewis, perhaps the best hurdler in the south, and Johnny Seja, a swarthy miler who finished second in the all-conference meet last season, are the only lettermen on Coach Norman Barker's roster. Nevertheless, the Jack-rabbits bring here capable newcomers who figure to have enough strength in certain events to overpower "Chuck" Webber's Saints, just as Long Beach always has had too much balance for Santa Ana in everything except football.

Several Class B graduates, including Bill Barber, brother of Dick, the former Trojan broad-jumper, add lustre to the Rabbit caravan.

Strong in the shot, sprints, hurdles and broad jump, Santa Ana promises to make the meet unusually close although probably not close enough.

Floyd Montgomery, captain of Webber's force, is a "triple threat" man who should win the broad jump and high jump, and run Lewis is a warm second in the low sticks.

Husky Art Stranake is conceded the shot put, and he may be ready to smash Normie Paul's school record of 49:10. Bruce Swishnell and Major Anderson are sprinters who should pick up their share of points.

Competition will be conducted in three classes—A, B and C. No admission will be charged.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

The beetle has enormous wings and they were funny looking things. Wee Windy was excited as he whizzed right through the air.

"Cling to my head," the beetle cried. "Then you'll be real safe on this ride. I'm going to do some sailing and some dips, if you don't care."

"Go right ahead," cried Windy. "I feel right at home up in the sky. Be careful of a drop, though. I don't want to hit the ground."

"An airplane ride I never fear, but, gee, I feel much safer here. Don't fret about me, Mister Beetle. Keep on sailing 'round."

A big cloud then came floating near. The bug said, "I'll get out of here. That cloud might be packed full of rain, and we might get all wet."

So to the ground they quickly flew. The next thing that the Tinies knew, brave Windy was explaining 'twas the best ride he'd had yet.

Then little Duncy jumped and cried, "Oh, please take me out for a ride." The beetle looked up toward the sky and saw the cloud had passed.

"I guess it's all right now," said he. "Hop on and you can go with me." As Duncy climbed aboard he said, "Now, please don't go too fast."

But, when the beetle was in air, he gave poor Duncy quite a scare. He laughed aloud and said, "I guess you think this trip is grand."

"But, listen, I have captured you. Do you know what I'm going to do? Don't worry, you will soon find out, when you see where we land."

And then the bug swooped to the ground. A lot of beetles gathered 'round and grabbed poor little Duncy. "You're a prisoner," one cried.

"Don't think that you can get away. We'll have a war dance, right today." The next thing that poor Duncy knew, his hands and feet were tied.

High School Students Set High Citizenship Record

100 PER CENT RATING HELD BY 522 STUDENTS

According to a report released today by Vice Principle William Clayton 522 students of 42.6 per cent of the enrollment, in Santa Ana Polytechnic high school, hold 100 per cent ranking in citizenship for the semester ending January 27, last.

The report showed 1223 students enrolled for the semester and 443 students held citizenship ratings of from 95 to 99. There were 965 students or 78.9 per cent of the total, rating between 95 and 100; 132 rated between 90 and 94; 1183 of the students or, 96.7 per cent, rated above 80 and out of that number 86 had ratings between 80 and 89. There were but 40 students or 3.3 per cent, rating 79 or less.

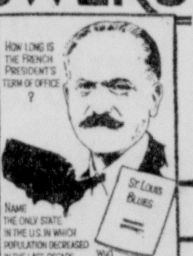

At the beginning of each semester every pupil is given a clean record of 100 merits. Perfect class attendance during any semester entitles a student to 10 additional merits which may be applied on any previous semester's record. Additional merits are also given for no tardiness during a semester. Deductions are made for infractions of school regulations.

At graduation pupils whose average citizenship rating is 95 or better receives special mention for "Worthy Citizenship." Students whose citizenship rating had not dropped below 97 for a semester receives one point toward membership in the Honor society for each quarter of that semester. Students are ineligible for election or appointment to any office in any school organization for the remainder of the quarter or for the next quarter, if their rating drops below 90. They also are ineligible for membership in the Honor society.

If a pupil's rating drops below 70 during any semester suspension from school follows and he cannot be reinstated until after a conference with his parents. If reinstated the pupil may remain in school unless his rating drops below 60 when he is suspended for the remainder of the term.

URGE RECORDS OF INDIVIDUAL FRUIT TREES

Adopting the method long used by livestock breeders and more recently in citrus orchards, growers of apples, pears, peaches and other deciduous fruits are now finding it profitable to keep records of individual trees to eliminate the unprofitable ones and find improved strains or varieties. This new orchard practice is discussed in Farmers' Bulletin 1696-F, Deciduous Fruit Improvement Through Tree-Performance Records, just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Records of individual tree performance are especially valuable in orchards that have just come into bearing, the bulletin says, as they enable growers to cull out inferior or off-type trees that do not pay. Sometimes, also, records reveal limb variations from which improved strains or varieties may arise.

Another important value of the individual records is that they provide a good check on cultural methods, fertilizer practice, and other orchard work. The bulletin contains samples of forms suitable for keeping individual tree records and suggests plans for setting up such a system of records.

Fruit growers and others interested may obtain Farmers' Bulletin 1696-F from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., at 5 cents a copy. Stamps will not be accepted.

ANNOUNCE CAST FOR LATHROP MUSICAL SHOW

The cast for the annual Lathrop musical show, "Clowns and Castles," has been selected and the members are busily working on their parts under the direction of Miss Edith Cornell and Mrs. Maxine Bryte. It was announced today by school authorities. This year's musical is particularly interesting due to the fact that it is the product of a local composer, Miss Dorothy Mayhew.

The story, as the title implies, is a comedy. Briefly it is as follows: Yvonne Lairre, entertainer with a circus, accompanies Hank the manager to a Gypsy camp to buy a trick horse for the show. There she meets Chicot, later known as Sir John Harwood, and they fall in love at first sight. Chicot leaves the Gypsies and becomes a clown in the circus. He is dismissed by Hank when he interferes with the lashing of Phantom, the trick horse he has trained. Three years later, Chicot as Sir John Harwood, is occupying his paternal castle near London, England. Yvonne has remained true to her love for Chicot, and when the circus disbands in England, they meet to part no more.

The cast of characters is as follows: Rosie, Gypsy queen and fortune-teller, Dorothy Gable; Chicot, Clarence Barney; Zora, Louis Lambert; King of the Gypsies, Elden Klingensburg; Hank, ringmaster of the circus, Don Kennedy; Yvonne, ballet dancer, Ruth Switzer; Florette, snake charmer, Winfred Gallienne; Hawker, Frank Was; Tony, balloon vender, Teddy Bernstein; Reuben, farmer, Onie Sanders; Mirandy, farmer's wife, Betty Bradley; Goldie, their daughter, Mary McKee; and Benny, their son, Floyd Pilloud.

The side show attractions will include "Madam Little," Jane Nalle; "Bearded Lady," Allan Patterson; "Living Skeleton," Jeff Whitten; Siamese Twins, Lorraine Flag and Marian Adams; Dwarf, "Princess Tiny," Dorothy Barnard; "Lanky Louie," Jack Hutton; "Tattooed Lady," Gloria Kircner; peanut vender, Leo Lyons; Beauty and the Beast, Lucille Holmes; Lady Dianne, Mayne Maxey; Harkins, Sir John Harwood's butler, Guy Belcher.

The opera will be an event of May 4 and 5.

DRIVE PLANNED AGAINST SALE OF NARCOTICS

State narcotic officers are going to carry their war against habit-forming drugs into the rural districts of California as the result of a new policy adopted by the state division of narcotic enforcement.

As a result, a substantial increase in arrests this year is expected. There were seven arrests for narcotic violations in Orange county last year.

In explaining the change of policy, George K. Home, chief of the division, said: "This division has found that through the rural districts of the state, the enforcement agencies are unfamiliar with the enforcement of the narcotic law."

"It will be the aim of the division in the future to assist these rural agencies and to advise with them so they may be able to cope with conditions pertaining to narcotics in their own districts."

In a report just submitted to Governor Rolph, Home reported that 93 arrests were made during January for violations of the state narcotic act.

The defendants, the report pointed out, included 13 Los Angeles druggists and the owner of a manufacturing plant, all of whom were charged with the illegal sale of a cough syrup sold under the name of "Cherry Gulco" and allegedly containing habit-forming drugs.

"We believe," Home said, "the arrest of these men has done much to curb the illicit use of narcotics in the southern part of the state."

New Brea Bible Class Is Opened

BREA, March 10.—Dr. Charles Hurlbut opened a Bible class here Wednesday at the meeting held in the Baptist church. Dr. Hurlbut was introduced by Mrs. John Gray, who at the same time announced a change in date and place of meeting for the class. Thursday nights have been selected as the most suitable. The Legion hall has been selected as the place.

On next Thursday night the lesson will be given from the second epistle to the Corinthians.

Credit Easy? Never!

but any man with GOOD credit finds Vanderma's easy to get along with!

Credit at Vanderma's is a distinct asset. It never has been easy to get, and so means something to the standing of a man who can qualify.

But that doesn't mean that he must have wealth! A RELIABLE poor man is granted credit a lot quicker than an undependable rich man!

Men who have good credit, have their biggest chance today!—to buy clothing at bottom prices on credit—while we are all waiting for the turn that seems so surely at hand!

FEDERAL WATER SUIT HEARING AGAIN DELAYED

With negotiations under way toward effecting a compromise, hearing on the petition of the Irvine company, for a federal court injunction to halt water spreading on the upper Santa Ana river again has been continued for 30 days. The hearing was scheduled to start March 6 in Los Angeles.

For the past three weeks C. R. Browning, representing the Irvine company, has been in San Bernardino and Riverside negotiating with representatives of the 18 defendant cities and organizations named in the suit. In a telephone conversation today he said that he expected to return in San Bernardino for another two weeks.

Browning said that negotiations are making satisfactory progress with the defendants willing to be liberal and compromise if possible. He said that a study of the engineering features of the litigation is being made at present as a basis for presenting terms of settlement.

The city of San Bernardino will be eliminated from the litigation, it is said, if a settlement can be made with the Lytle creek water conservation group relative to the amount of water that is to be permitted to come down the creek before spreading operations are started. The city of San Bernardino has spent considerably money on Lytle creek for conservation work in the past.

Negotiations for the defendants in the action are being handled by C. S. Surr, San Bernardino attorney and Chauncey McFarland, attorney from Riverside.

Recent Books Chosen By Mrs. Valley For Review

Spring vies with the late winter months in the point of an interesting output of books, and Mrs. Jack Valley will have a wide range of subjects from which to choose for the general review which she will give Monday afternoon on the Ebell society program.

This review will follow the business meeting to be conducted at 2 o'clock by the president, Mrs. Paul Bailey. As the general theme for the review, Mrs. Valley has selected a quotation from Bacon, "The contemplation of things as they are, without substitution or imposture, without error or confusion, is in itself a nobler thing than a whole harvest of inventions."

Contemplating "things as they are," has led her to the choice of "The Years of the Locust" by Gilbert Seldes; "Gabriel Over the White House" (anonymous); "British Agent" by Bruce Lockhart; "Enchanted Sand" by D. J. Hall; "Life and Death in Luzon" by Kane, and a group in slightly less serious vein.

This group will include Shaw's latest book, "Adventures of the Black Girl in Her Search for God," "Union Square" by Albert Halper; "South Moon Under" by Marjorie Rawlings; "Sally in Rhodessa" by Sheila McDonald; "Other Women" by Katherine Brush; "Hardy Perennial" by Helen Hill; and "Jenny Wrenn," E. H. Young.

Arts and Crafts Group Sees Pottery Exhibit

A pottery display exhibited by Mrs. Hazel Ryan, who offered interesting comment on each article in the exhibition, proved a novel feature of the meeting of the Arts and Crafts section of the Santa Ana Women's club, Tuesday with Mrs. Ruth W. Riggle, 715 Orange avenue. The remainder of the afternoon found the women variously occupied with the piecing of quilt blocks, with tatting and needlepoint and with water colors.

Participating in this valuable period were Mesdames William H. Whitehead, James Clark, Hazel Ryan, Charles Hoch, Lovisa Leslie, Ruth W. Riggle, M. C. Williams, William Wells, Mrs. S. McCracken of Garden Grove and Miss Kerchiff.

Afternoon an Evening Reception Honors Miss Daniel

It seemed very appropriate that a Spanish theme should dictate program and decorative details of a reception with which Miss Meta Daniel yesterday complimented her sister, Miss Estella Daniel, for the latter devotes her life to teaching in a mission school for girls in Valparaiso, Chile. Indeed the fact that her furlough is drawing to a close, and that she will sail early in April for her station in the South American country, inspired the party in which Miss Meta Daniel gathered together the members of the Estella Daniel Missionary society of First Presbyterian church.

Reception hours were in effect, the hours from 2 to 5 in the afternoon, and those from 7 to 9 last night. Guests found themselves immediately transported in spirit, to a foreign land as two handsomely garbed young caballeros of Santa Ana junior college, Rex Parks and Don Finch, stepped forward to assist in parking cars and directing arrivals to Apartment C at 604 West Fifth street, home of the hostess.

The patio was lined with baskets of bright-hued flowers to harmonize with those arranged so beautifully within the home by Mrs. Charles Winans.

Additional decorative interest was lent by the examples of Chilean basketry, woven ponchos, rugs and hangings, and artifacts in which workmanship in silver, carving and beauty of design were manifest.

The Rev. W. D. Kring and Mrs. Kring were among guests in the afternoon, and the Rev. Mr. Kring presented a brief devotional service as did the Rev. O. Scott McFarland at the evening reception when he and Mrs. McFarland were special guests. Both intervals had the interest of informal talks by Miss Estella Daniel, who painted vivid little word pictures of school life and students in the Chilean institution.

Spanish Program
Miss Enriqueta Armendariz, favorite young soloist of the community, added several songs to the afternoon's informal program, accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong. Both were in Spanish costume, and the songs continued the general theme, for they were "La Paloma" and "Estrellita," while Miss Armendariz responded to a request for the familiar hymn, "Brighten the Corner Where You Are," in the Spanish translation.

A favorite at the school where Miss Daniel teaches.

Two cunning Mexican children, Celia and Margarita Yanes, were brought in the afternoon by Mrs. Edith Ritter, and in their quaint costumes, danced the Jarabe and other native dances. During the evening there was a pretty feature which was unexpected to hostess and guests alike, for Mrs. Ritter's group of Mexican Girl Reserves of Fremont school gathered in the patio and sang charmingly, a variety of Spanish airs.

At Tea Hour
A delectable ice cream cake was served with tea and sweetmeats both afternoon and evening. The Misses Betty Lou McFarland and Audrey McDonald assisting last night. Trays of delightful little figurines of native workmanship were passed, and each guest was privileged to select one of the quaint figures, diminutive sorcerers or baskets as a favor.

Asked to share this memorable afternoon and evening affair with Miss Daniel and her honoree, Miss Estella Daniel, were the special guests, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McFarland and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Kring; Mrs. Laura Dietrick, president of Estella Daniel Missionary society; Mesdames W. W. Anderson, John B. Bichan, Ethel Christian, Hazel K. Fulton, Luella Greene, Arthur Hadley, Bertha G. Hawk, Esther Hawley, Everett Hunter, M. B. Hamilton, Gladys Landerbach, Ella M. McBride, Edith Osborn, Rebecca Pietke, Edwin Riley, Jessie Rez, Mary Snyder, Emma T. Wilson, Grace Stephens Wolf, Edson Moore, Charles Winans, Roy Talbot, Belle Griset, Esther Gardner, Hazel Sauers, Marian Williams and Elizabeth Clark.

The Misses Berta L. Armstrong, Ruth Armstrong, Mayme Brightwell, Inez Cloyes, Abby Chapman, Ruth Crosby, Janice De Haan, Effie Douglas, Nancy Elder, Mae Erstad, Henrietta Foster, Louise Friedly, Stella Groff, Bess Hill, Ise Hamann, Robbie Jones, Irma Jacobson, Isabel Lindsay, Lula B. Ott, Vance Blouie Plumb, Ann Segerstrom, Ella Segerstrom, Cora Taylor, Alice Wasson, Harriet Whidden, Mary L. Wood, Shafter, Sidebottom, Christine Rogers, Leola Smith, Eugenia Henry, Suzanne Claycomb, Minnie Criesman, Eva Osborn, May Pulham, Pearl Cambelin, Ruth Frothingham and Agnes Todd Miller.

The potatoes will have special attention; wash and rub them with butter, bake. Cut a thin slice off the top, scoop out the pulp, mash and return to the shell. Fluff up the pulp and put grated cheese on top, or make a depression in the pulp, drop in an egg and bake until the egg has set.

A dinner of this kind is really grand food and little trouble once it is in the oven.

The casserole part serves seven people generously, so that many potatoes go with it. If too much, serve what is needed for dinner and re-heat for next day's luncheon as vegetable hash.

The calories per portion total 525.

Ebell Day Nursery to Have Food Sale

Continuing their money raising campaign, members of the Ebell day nursery board are making plans for a cooked food sale to be held Monday in conjunction with the general Ebell program at 2 o'clock in the clubhouse, it was announced today.

Members of the board expect to have a variety of delicious foods prepared for the event. Those on the board are Mrs. Lena G. Hewitt, chairman, and Mesdames Roy Peterson, J. E. Liebig, E. F. Musous, O. H. Umberham, Rowland P. Yeagle, F. E. Farnsworth, W. D. Ranney and C. V. Newman.

Poetry Group Devotes Program to Poems For Children

Ebell Modern Poetry section members and guests who shared the hospitality of Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, 1522 North Broadway, Tuesday afternoon, found that Mrs. Harwood Sharp, program chairman, had arranged entertainment features of unusual charm.

She devoted the interesting period to poems for children, reading works of Signe Ellison Best, Monica Shannon, A. A. Milne and Laura Richards. Poems of Laura Richards, including a collection, "Now We Are Six," proved of special delight to the section. Mrs. Sharp concluded the program with some of her original writings for children.

In hostess duties, Mrs. Stephenson had the assistance of her niece, Mrs. Edmund C. West. For a pleasant tea hour, Mrs. S. B. Marshall and Mrs. John Tesseman presided at the tea and coffee urns. The menu was dispensed from a table brightened with colorful flowers of the season.

A Lenten message was given by Mrs. E. M. Nealley, who read Beulah May's poem, "The Holy Carpenter."

Those present were special guests, Mrs. Edmund C. West, Mrs. David Ball, Mrs. Paul Bailey, Mrs. Price and Mrs. O. J. Balzer. Members present were Mesdames S. B. Marshall, Edith Thatcher, Aldric Worswick, M. C. Maloney, Lillian Witschert, John Tessmann, E. M. Nealley, Alice Hill Hatch, Robert Northcross, Harwood Sharp and the Misses Beulah May, Luvicy Carter, Martha Ritchey and Mabel Whiting, with the hostess, Mrs. Stephenson.

Mrs. W. H. De Wolfe will be hostess at the next meeting, with Mrs. M. C. Maloney assisting.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Eat and Grow Slim
Luncheon

Fluffy Omelet with Peas
Lime Fruit Salad
Mineral Oil Mayonnaise
Tea with Milk, but No Sugar
Calory value, 385.

All the family might have fluffy omelette and green peas, but if the omelette is just for the dieting member, separate an egg, beat the yolk with 3 tablespoons of milk and a pinch of salt and pepper. Beat the white to a stiff fluff, add the yolk and beat to mix. Turn the omelette into a hot buttered pan, shift over the flame so that the center does not burn, then pop into a hot oven and bake about three minutes. Fold over and serve with hot green peas.

Lime fruit salad is both salad and dessert. To a package of lime jelly powder add the required amount of water, a can of grapefruit and its juice and a quantity of diced apple. Chill until well set. Serve on heart lettuce with mineral oil mayonnaise.

LEST YOU FORGET
Mineral Oil Mayonnaise
Buy a heavy grade of mineral oil from the druggist's. Chill it, and along with it chill 3 egg yolks and a bottle of vinegar. Beat the yolks with a teaspoonful of prepared mustard, a pinch of sugar, salt and paprika. Drip oil until dressing thickens, then add vinegar and more oil.

Over-Baked Vegetable Plate
1/2 cups sliced winter squash
1 turnip, cubed
1 small can of peas
1 onion, sliced
1 cup canned tomatoes
1/4 cup rice
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Dash of nutmeg
4 cups very thin brown gravy
Butter a deep casserole. In the bottom put a layer of thinly sliced turnip, next a layer of squash, then the onion, over the onion the cup of tomatoes mixed with the rice, and on top the peas. Season nicely and pour in the quart of thin brown gravy. The gravy should be about half as thick as for table use.

Cover the casserole and bake in a slow oven three hours.

The potatoes will have special attention; wash and rub them with butter, bake. Cut a thin slice off the top, scoop out the pulp, mash and return to the shell. Fluff up the pulp and put grated cheese on top, or make a depression in the pulp, drop in an egg and bake until the egg has set.

A dinner of this kind is really grand food and little trouble once it is in the oven.

The casserole part serves seven people generously, so that many potatoes go with it. If too much, serve what is needed for dinner and re-heat for next day's luncheon as vegetable hash.

The calories per portion total 525.

A. A. U. W. Branch Hears "Geneva Broadcast" From Dr. Hunter

Lacking the breadth of field common to most radio addresses, Dr. Graham C. Hunter's "Broadcast from Geneva," delivered last night before the Orange County branch of the American Association of University Women at the Y. W. C. A., might have found partial recompense in its depth of impress upon its limited group of hearers.

The "broadcast" followed the association's yearly International Relations dinner, directed by Mrs. Edith Thatcher, branch chairman. In the pull between old forms and new, which he declared characteristic of the modern city of Geneva, Dr. Hunter, a Fullerton minister who was with the 1931 Sherwood Eddy party, found a parallel in a conflict now existing in America. The comparison ended, he showed, with the character of the new and old, in each instance.

Where new moves in Geneva have introduced a means to spiritual progress among nations of the world to replace the old standards of nationalism, force and privilege, the newer tendency in America was described by Dr. Hunter as veering away from the country's original liberties to a nosey supervision of the affairs of others.

The new world in Geneva, Dr. Hunter explained, as taking specific form in the Rockefeller museum and in the great broadcasting station in which, he declared, "the conscience of the world has found a voice." Condemned today by this voice, Dr. Hunter asserted that Japan already was isolated morally and might eventually stand alone economically, should the disapproval of her fellow nations take more definite form.

Citing the moves in behalf of international understanding as represented by the League of Nations and the Kellogg-Briand peace pact, Dr. Hunter labeled as a stroke of highest diplomacy the Stimson doctrine denying recognition to Japanese territory seized by force. The move's strategy, he said, lay in its creation of opposition to Japan's military tactics among Japan's own business men.

Referring to present conditions in America, Dr. Hunter warned his audience that in any relaxing of constitutional rights as regards the privileges of the individual, the country was losing her strongest hold on the extremists within her boundaries. Strong in message and earnest in delivery, Dr. Hunter's address launched an interesting period of discussion before the meeting's adjournment.

Mrs. Edith Thatcher introduced Dr. Hunter with words of tribute to his grasp of international affairs.

Announcements made by Mrs. Charles C. Brisco, president, before members and guests left the dining room concerned the branch's annual scholarship benefit card party, to be held April 22; the appointment of Mrs. DeWitt Dudley to the affair's chairmanship; the final seminar on "International-mindedness" to be held in the Y. W. C. A. Thursday at 3:30 o'clock; the state convention, scheduled for May 26-27 at Sacramento, and the national biennial convention, due in Minneapolis May 17-19.

The attractively decorated tables were served last night by a group of Girl Reserves under the supervision of Mrs. C. E. Downie and Miss Beulah Purkey.

BARRYMORE BIG HIT IN "TOPAZE" AT FOX BROADWAY

John Barrymore's "Topaze," which opened at the Fox Broadway theater yesterday to one of the biggest crowds recently, in spite of the fact that the banks are closed, well merited the attention paid its coming to Santa Ana. An unusual story, sparkling in its wit and its appeal, "Topaze" gives to the man who thinks life has passed him by, a new understanding. It makes him feel that he would like to do the same as does the bookworm, who, inheriting a million dollars after a drab existence of 40 years, starts out to see and do things.

Barrymore in the role of the old fool and then again as the man who finds his youth and takes advantage of it, makes for one of the best pictures that has been here in a long time. Myrna Loy has the leading feminine role.

...AND ANOTHER WOMAN CHANGES TO CALUMET

Just let a man get a taste of waffles made with this new modern baking powder and he'll be talking about them for weeks. They're so much lighter...so much tenderer...so evenly golden and brown.

And when you see what a marvelous improvement Calumet makes in all kinds of baking...cakes and quick breads and cookies...you'll surely be one of the thousands of women who are changing to Calumet!

What makes it so different? Calumet acts twice. It doesn't stop with raising the batter in the mixing bowl. A remarkable second action begins when the batter or dough starts to bake, releasing myriads of tiny bubbles to raise your baked things high and light, make them velvety-textured, tender and smooth-crusted.

You might think such a wonderful baking powder would cost more...but it actually

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

SPOTLIGHT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Shella Shyne, 25, whose parents were well-known vaudeville actors, is in New York looking for a job. Shella is a dancer. In spite of the fact that she has spent almost her entire life on the stage, her ambition is to marry and have a home like those that have been in small towns in which she has played.

On a few hours' notice she is hired to give the place of Lottie Blanton, vaudeville dancer, who has sprained an ankle. Shella goes to Joe Paris office in "Fin Pan Alley" to rehearse. There she meets Trevor Lane and Dick Stanley, both rich. Lane asks Shella to dance at a party he is giving, but she refuses, knowing that after a day of rehearsing and the performance that night she will be too tired to go to a party. She goes to the theater, and there meets Phil Short, an old acquaintance.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VII

Shella was glad to see someone she knew—even an old sweetheart like Phil Short. A sweetheart who, as a matter of fact, had dropped her suddenly without warning. Why had Phil stopped coming to see her? Why had he stopped telephoning? Shella had never known.

As cheerfully as though nothing had happened, as though he had seen her only a few days before, Phil stood there. Well, nothing had happened, really. After would have called a rush Phil had simply disappeared.

Perhaps he had had a bad year, though now he seemed prosperous. Saxophonists are well paid even in off-seasons. And Phil himself had once pointed out that it isn't what the most caustic observer saves that counts. Living had become cheaper.

In spite of the hearty greeting and the nonchalant manner, Shella saw almost at once that Phil wore a harassed look. Even with an old score to pay off, she felt sorry for him.

"So you're taking Daisy's place?" he was saying. "That's fine, Shella. I've often wondered what you were doing."

"Wasn't the telephone working down your way?" she asked, half vexed, half laughing.

"I couldn't call you," Phil began. Plainly he was embarrassed. "But that doesn't mean I didn't think about you."

"Well, thoughts keep a person warm in the winter," was her response, the caustic phrase borrowed from Ma Lowell. Then Shella related.

"Of course I'll have dinner with you. We can't be long, though."

"There's a little place near," Phil explained.

During the dinner he explained other things. Upon leaving Ma Lowell's rooming house, said Phil, he had married. Yes, married. His face clouded a trifle as he said the word, and it was evident that the marriage was not, for some reason, a happy one. He was vague about it. The girl's name was Mildred. She came from his home town—somewhere near Des Moines.

Just now, with conditions as they were, Mildred was living with Phil's parents. Shella gathered that the daughter-in-law—strangely enough—had a more desirable place in the hearts of the Short family than did the son. "The folks think the world and all of Milly," was the way Phil put it.

The dinner was excellent, though hurried. Shella ordered lightly, as Phil did also, for both had the performance to think of. The act would go on in three-quarters of an hour.

The young man was friendly, agreeable. It was nice to see Phil again. In show business one couldn't always account for sudden departures. Failures to explain, omitted farewells. By the time she reached the dressing room Shella felt rather friendly toward her old admirer and a little sorry for Mildred. Though his attitude toward Shella had been above reproach, there was no denying the fact that Phil was a flirt.

Back in the dressing room, the "art dancers," as Lottie had somewhat scornfully dubbed them, had returned from a half hour's energetic posing, their scarfs trailing, their classic robes in pastel shades tossed about in confusion. They talked a great deal, completely ignoring the others.

The art dancers, billed as the "Classic Nine", were not regular trouper. That is, they were not regularly booked, but instead were trying out a new number. It was soon clear that all of them were down on their luck, stretching every penny as far as it would possibly go.

Lottie confided to Shella, busy with her cosmetic pan, that the only good number in the classic nine's act was a scarf dance done by the two little blonds. Lottie was a blond, too, but there was a difference. The two youthful dancers had honey-colored hair which obviously grew that way without benefit of art or decoration.

However, Lottie might feel, Shella soon was aware that these girls were not trying to appear superior. They were not cheap. Shella would have told you. The shabby little street suits which they were busily donning were well cut and reminded Shella of the clothes worn by the smartest "Polies" girl. Dark, plain, unostentatious and expensive. Not fluffy or loud as so many chorus girls' costumes. Their hats were just hats—

Jenny Wren Bakes More For Less

For housewives who want the "most and best for less"—JENNY WREN, the all-purpose, economy flour will point the way to new baking economies. This finest of flours never fails—it's recipe-mixed at the mills, ready-to-use for hundreds of different baking treats. Cheap, because there'll be no "throw-a-ways"—best because it's made that way! Buy a package of JENNY WREN (4 lbs.) and try this delightful recipe:

Shrimp a La Newburg

4 tablespoonfuls butter
4 tablespoonfuls JENNY WREN flour
A few grains cayenne pepper
2 cupfuls rich milk
2 cupfuls fresh cooked or canned shrimps
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoonful cooking sherry or lemon juice

Melt butter, add JENNY WREN flour and cayenne pepper and mix well. Add milk gradually and bring to boiling point, stirring constantly. Add shrimps. Just before serving add the beaten egg yolks and flavoring. Garnish with parsley and thin strips of pimiento, and serve over hot JENNY WREN biscuits. This makes 6 large or 8 medium servings. Tuna fish may be used in this recipe instead of shrimps.—Adv.

Relishes That Should Accompany
The Meat Course

Certain meats seem to demand a definite type of pickle or relish to bring out their fullest flavor—thus definite types of sauces or relishes have come to be associated with one type of meat. Lamb immediately brings mint sauce to mind—pork is linked gastronomically with apple sauce. But there are variations on the familiar and obvious relishes that may not occur to the home-keeper—variations that will appeal to family and guests alike, and give to a familiar dish a new guise.

And there are a variety of attractive ways of serving relishes so that they will appeal to the eye as well as to the palate. Sweet pickles should be drained from their liquid as should olives, but mustard pickles and those put up in heavy sauces should be served with the accompanying liquid for greatest flavor. Home made relishes always seem to have a special aroma and fragrance of their own—who has forgotten the fragrance of chili sauce cooking in an old fashioned kitchen or is too biased to thrill to the sight of row on row of preserves and relishes in gleaming glass jars that decorate the shelves of a well stocked pantry?

But nowadays when space in the average apartment is apt to be limited it is gratifying to know that nearly all of the old-time relishes may be duplicated in the modern shop. A list of meats and the kinds of relishes most suitably served with them follows—

Beef—Worcester sauce, mustard pickles, spiced peaches, pickled onions, black currant or plum jelly, sweet tomato pickles.

Pork—Apple sauce, sauer kraut, dill pickles, stuffed olives, celery, sweet mixed pickles, radishes, currant jelly. Lamb—Mint sauce, mint jelly, sour gherkins, radishes, chopped sweet relish, green olives.

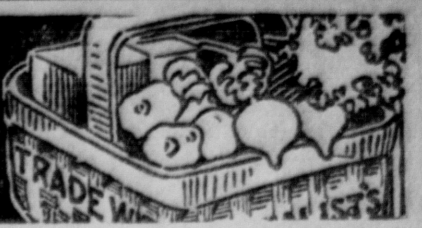

Veal—Pickled beets, chili sauce, mustard pickles, catsup, sliced dill pickles. Poultry—Cranberry jelly, sweet pickles, dill pickles, ripe and green olives, celery, radishes, currant jelly, black currant jelly.

Fish—Sour pickles, tartar sauce, lemons, cole slaw, sweet pepper relish, piccalilli.

All of these Products that go to make up the above menus can be purchased right here in this market and at prices which we believe to be lower than any place in Southern California.

STORE HELD UP AND ROBBED OF $75 BY BANDIT

ANAHEIM, March 10.—Unsuspectingly accepting the small white

card that was thrust across the desk at him at 5:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon, J. E. McNair, manager of the Safeway store at Helena and Center streets read "You're blowing your head off. Give me the paper money as if making change. You're well covered. Act quick."

Looking up McNair saw himself confronted by a well dressed man of approximately 25 years. He was shown a revolver. McNair showed him some one dollar bills, but jerking the gun menacingly the bandit said:

"I want all of it." McNair shoved out the other money and the bandit pocketed $75. As he turned to go out McNair started to his feet, but the bandit turned and told him to sit still. He went south on Helena street and disappeared before Chief James S. Bouldin and officers could begin their search.

The service station operator across the street told police that he had seen the bandit as early as 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He was walking up and down in front of the store, he declared.

At the time of the holdup McNair was in the store by himself, seated at the checking counter. He described the bandit as having a dark complexion and 6 feet 2 inches tall, 25 years old, wearing a brown suit and a light tan hat.

needed legislation to present to the new congress in its special session will be highlighted in dramatic manner. Other events to be reenacted will be the German election, and the inauguration of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John N. Garner as president and vice president of the United States.

Last of the famous Barrymore "Royal Family" to capitulate to radio, Ethel Barrymore will reveal the "Inside Story" when she appears with Edwin C. Hill, 6:30 to 7 o'clock tonight over KHJ. She will engage in informal conversation with Hill for the purpose of revealing the incidents that brought her international fame.

An interesting program to be released at 8 p. m. tomorrow over KHJ is entitled "A Mother Looks at a President." It is a group of anecdotes told to Isabelle Leigh- ton by Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mieczyslaw Munz, noted Polish pianist, will be the featured soloist on the last of the current series of Children's concerts given by the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Ernst Schelling, at 8 a. m. tomorrow. Munz will be heard in a reading of the Mozart Concerto in D minor. Schelling will close the series of elementary programs for children, with Sibelius' "Swan of Tuonela" and Borodin's "Polovetzian Dances."

A new series of weekly recitals of Norwegian and Danish folksongs will make its debut over the Columbia network including KHJ from 1 to 1:15 p. m. tomorrow, featuring Sigurd Nilssen, "Sigurd the Viking" is a concert artist known to music lovers both in this country and abroad. Peasant melodies and haunting songs will be sung in his own tongue with English translation to round out the program.

Seaweeds have no roots in a general sense, only half-stalks or anchors. They absorb air, water, and salt essential to their growth through the surface of their fronds.

Sheila worked on at the dressing table. Lottie's specialty came first and then Sheila's—with a wait between while the band, elegant in evening clothes, performed.

Her hair would do, though she was sorry there had not been time for a shampoo and wave. Now that the exchequer was about to be replenished, Sheila could afford that.

She lighted the tiny lamp, melted the cosmetic in the little "frying pan" and beaded her lashes carefully. Darkened her lids with blue make-up, crimsoned her lips with generous strokes, dabbed rouge high on her cheek bones. Close at hand she looked grotesque, any thought of alluring. But beyond that, the patches of color would be subdued to a natural blush, a hazy loveliness, glowing and sparkling with health.

Next came her hose, carefully smoothed on, and her dancing slippers. A silken slip and then Daisy's frilled gown, tight at the waist and billowing to her knees. If it had been fitted to Sheila it could not have been more suitable. She would wear it for the first number. Lottie, rather grand and aloof in a tatra and sweeping from 1 to 1:15 p. m. tomorrow, featuring Sigurd Nilssen, "Sigurd the Viking" is a concert artist known to music lovers both in this country and abroad. Peasant melodies and haunting songs will be sung in his own tongue with English translation to round out the program.

Across the stage, then back again, this time progressing slowly. Hands crossing in front, head bent just a bit, feet flying. She let it down pat! Tum-tum ti-tum! Tum-tum ti-tum!

Now a run up the stage, a few steps around Roscoe, who beamed as she skimmed past him, his baton on flicking in approval. She darted toward him, whisked away coquishly as Bill had taught her.

The saxophone droned a few bars unaided and, shielded by Roscoe's bulk, Phil winked at her. Roscoe nodded smiling. It was all in the act, of course, but Sheila knew he was pleased. Sheila, too, was pleased. This was like old a lunch cloth and left hurriedly for the wings. The art dancers, still in their street clothes, returning two by two from dinner, eyed Sheila curiously, and had she not known it, enviously.

"Nervous?" one of the honey-colored blonds asked, smiling.

Sheila smiled, too, and shrugged. Of course she was nervous! But it was like the excited nervousness of a circus horse sniffing sawdust after a long vacation. Soon she would be out there in the glare of the footlights. Phil, Roscoe and the rest would be behind her. An audience, hostile or friendly, in front. A sea of faces swimming across her vision.

The orchestra was bringing Lottie's number to a close with a blast. Applause, not voluminous but encouraging. There Lottie was taking a bow. And another! That was a mistake—forcing the bows that way. Sheila liked to be hustled back to the stage, hand in hand with the band leader, bowing shyly, backing out before the audience was willing to relinquish her. But to force applause was bad business. Presently the clapping became milder, merely a polite patter.

Sheila stood in the wings. Roscoe waved his baton, Phil nodded and the band crashed into melody. Two bars. Three bars. How did it go? Oh—this way! Sheila ran on. Now she was dancing! Dancing to a full house, too.

Tum-tum ti-tum. "Don't fake that last turn there, baby!" She could hear Bill Brady's admonishing tone, still hear his "ta-ta, ta-ta!" Sheila didn't fake the turn. It was glorious. Skimming like a bit of thistledown. Dancing on a breath of wind.

Across the stage, then back again, this time progressing slowly. Hands crossing in front, head bent just a bit, feet flying. She let it down pat! Tum-tum ti-tum! Tum-tum ti-tum!

Now a run up the stage, a few steps around Roscoe, who beamed as she skimmed past him, his baton on flicking in approval. She darted toward him, whisked away coquishly as Bill had taught her.

BREA, March 10.—Frank Bickel is reported improving rapidly following an operation on his knee at the Orange County hospital. The trouble resulted from an injury sustained ten years ago when some heavy pipe rolled on his knee.

Harold Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carter, is also a patient in the same hospital where he is making a satisfactory recovery from an emergency operation for appendicitis.

There was a tornado of applause and Sheila bowed quickly, disappearing. Then, waiting for Roscoe's nod, she reappeared. A bow. Roscoe beckoning her. She fluttered toward him on her toes, smiling, bowing. They advanced toward the footlights, bowed to the house, to each other, her finger tip in his moist, fat palm.

Applaud, loud, clamorous, insistent. It broke in sudden gusts, now here, now there, and rippled over the entire house. Another tornado as Sheila stood still. Was she going to dance an encore? Bowing again, a low, sweeping, skipping bow. Sheila ran off to change for the next number. But not before she had seen the man in the front row who was still applauding vigorously.

Sheila had seen him! There in correct evening attire, a strange sight in that cozy little neighborhood house, sat Dick Stanley. He was alone.

HI SCHOOL BOARD PUTS BUDGET OFF

ANAHEIM, March 10.—Unable to make plans for the budgeting of the next school year, because of important educational legislation pending before the state assembly, the board of trustees for the Anaheim Union High school met last evening to transact regular business.

"No plans can be made for next year," J. A. Claves, principal of the school declared this morning, "until the state legislature has acted. This may be three months."

McIntosh Meat News

SANTA ANNA ~ HUNTINGTON BEACH

ANNOUNCEMENT

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS:—

Due to the Bank Holiday and restricted shipments of live stock from the east, there has been a sharp advance in price on all meat products.

However, our connection with the J. W. McIntosh Packing Plant and the facilities of our own large modern equipped refrigeration and cold storage plant in this market, has made it possible to retain for the remainder of this week, the same low standard of prices we have given you previous to this time. In other words there will be no advance in retail prices in our markets Friday and Saturday.

In anticipation of this price advance, the McIntosh Packing Plant bought heavily, and filled their feed yards to capacity with choice grain fed BABY BEEF, HOGS and LAMBS, purchased especially for RAY MCINTOSH MARKETS. Every available space in our own huge coolers is packed with meat products and provisions of all kinds.

May we suggest that you buy generously of meat products this week, especially smoked meats, lard and shortening, as it will be impossible to replace any of this merchandise at the prices we are offering to you.

We want to take this opportunity to thank you for your patronage and to assure you we are putting forth every effort at all times to make your DOLLAR go a little farther.

BUY HERE WITH CONFIDENCE

Yours Very Truly,
RAY MCINTOSH.

FRIDAY, March 10—(Read Psalm 139)

From Skies to Heart

The speaking skies tell the glory of God and His laws which rule the stars. But there is, says the Psalmist, a more perfect law: a law tested, controlled and enlightened by the Law of the Lord's love. And yet—? The stars have no choice but we who have so many choices can so easily go wrong. We need help to discern our errors, mercy for our unconscious faults, restraint in our wilful ways. And we need most of all that our meditations (reveries they call them now) should be right. For we live out of such constant brooding thoughts. They are the mothers of our desires; our desires become purposes, purposes become deeds, deeds become destiny. There is only one test for our secret inner lives. If they are acceptable to God, they will be right. And so the Psalmist's prayer should be ours.

Prayer: O Thou Who knowest our most secret thoughts and before Whom all the hidden places of our souls are open, grant us, we pray Thee, that the words of our mouths and the meditations out of which they speak may be acceptable in Thy sight. Save us from wrong thoughts and vain imaginations, from stained desire and idle inner dreaming. May we think what we may rightly dare to say, dream of what we may nobly hope to be and do. In His name, Amen.

ELIMINATE STRIFE ON WATER DISTRICT BILL

A great deal of discussion is now taking place in respect to the water district bill which has been in process of making for many weeks.

While there are many matters to "iron out" in the bill, one of the chief of these is the question of the outline of the districts. Considerable quarreling and ill will is being developed, because some districts have in them more of taxable property than other districts, and in view of the fact that voting is provided for in proportion to assessed valuation, this is a bone of serious contention.

This is true because the framers of the bill apparently insist on having it undemocratic. For some strange reason they do not want to have the directors of this water district elected by all of the people of the water district. Some apparently want to manipulate by districts.

It would instantly avoid all dispute and discussion about the size of the districts, if all they could do in any district was to place one or more men in nomination, and then all of the property owners of the district could vote for them. This would insure justice and fair dealing. It would do away with political chicanery and manipulation. It would avoid the quarrels they are now getting into, and the charge of unfairness anywhere. It would remove suspicion, and probably do more to insure the introduction and passage of the bill, than any other single act.

Why is this not at once granted and provided for? If the program of this water district is to be carried out for the whole district, and not in the interest of a group of the districts that might get together, through their representatives, why then should not all of the property owners have the privilege of voting for all of the directors?

There are only seven, in any case, and their attitudes upon various matters can be well known before election. It would prevent "cliquing" and "ganging." It would give the privilege to each director to work in the interest of the whole district, and be assured that he would be supported in his position.

We often have observed men who are elected by districts in any enterprise, frankly acknowledge that the position which they assume they are forced to assume, against the interest of the district, in order to satisfy their constituents in their own bailiwick. It would eliminate a large degree of this selfishness. It would do a great deal to insure confidence in the measure. It would take the power of concentration away, and spread it over the district. It is in harmony with the spirit of our institutions.

GIRL SCOUTS

Tonight eighteen girls belonging to the Girl Scouts troop of Santa Ana receive honorary awards. The occasion comes at practically the time of the twenty-first anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts of America by Mrs. Juliette Low of Savannah, Ga., who brought the idea from England to girls in America. A small group of girls were called together at her house on March 12 for tea. That was in 1912. The organization has grown from that small group to a million memberships, with seven hundred thousand who have grown up to adulthood. The age of the organization offers opportunity to test its results to a limited extent though the oldest Girl Scout alumna is not yet forty. Miss Mary Margaret McBride who has canvassed the results in an article in the March Good Housekeeping commemorating the anniversary says that something like eighty-five per cent of the Girl Scouts undertake careers—and usually those with a service angle. They are convinced they can have jobs and also marriage says this author and the married Girl Scout has babies or adopts babies. "Today's Girl Scout" says this author . . . is a contradictory but intriguing creature—one moment mid-Victorian, the next completely day-after-tomorrowish."

The Girl Scout is learning to face and carry responsibility; she is learning to be a good homemaker; she is learning the joy of wholesome fun; she is discovering her own aptitudes; she is learning cooperation; she is learning kindness; she is learning the value of good health. To adults it may seem that she is just enjoying herself because the Girl Scout does find joy in her work. She has the same sort of joy which the adult has found who is happily adjusted in his or her home life and work. In the future, because of the training in the fine art of living which Girl Scouts receive, there will be more happily adjusted women in homes and in business or combining the two.

The first Girl Scout troop in Santa Ana was started about four years ago. It includes today an enthusiastic and growing group of girls numbering approximately sixty-eight. May it prosper and bring happiness and contentment and show its members the way to the practical realization of dreams.

FOUR SUSPECTED OF DENVER CRIME ARRESTED

A hopeful piece of news is the arrest of three men charged with the kidnaping of Charles Boettcher II. Three are held in jail in Denver, one is being taken to Denver and two others are being sought. A speedy trial and conviction for these criminals will serve as a potent deterrent to kidnapers.

This class of crime has prevailed to an alarming degree over the land. The full extent has not been known because of the fear which has restrained kidnaped people who had been restored after the paying of ransom. How many of them kept silent, thus encouraging kidnapers by the success in their own case, is not known.

The apprehension of the kidnapers in Denver, together with the quick arrest of the two responsible for the recent kidnaping of Mrs. Skeele in Los Angeles is a healthy manifestation that the law-enforcing citizenry is in control. A few frustrated holdups, a few criminals caught and convicted is a powerful deterrent to crime.

MORATORIUM ON MORTGAGES

A measure passed the legislature yesterday which grants a moratorium on all mortgages for 60 days.

We believe this is extremely wise, for we have already passed the turn, and in 60 days, debtors will be able to do things that they cannot do now, and haven't been able to do for a long period.

Save the ones who are saveable now! This will help do it. There is a co-operative spirit being shown, and there is something with which to co-operate.

Servant of Justice

Christian Science Monitor

An austerity which bespoke the man of rigid honor and inflexible devotion to public duty was the outstanding mark of Senator Thomas J. Walsh. That the nation is not to have his services in the post of Attorney General for which President-Elect Roosevelt had designated him is one of the heaviest misfortunes the new Administration could suffer. Yet the fire of his example burns with an inextinguishable light.

His was the seriousness of a man who moves to the measure of a purpose which he considers vastly bigger than himself and who believes in the efficacy of laborious digging and plain statement to establish the right. His life purpose was the service of justice. From the time he earned by hard drudging his admission to the bar he was a follower not merely of the law but of his own highest sense of equity.

He early declined an opportunity to become general counsel for one of the largest American mining corporations, and his office became instead a meeting place for labor leaders. And yet, though his sympathies were always with the humble three-quarters of the people, from whom he had sprung, he did not hesitate as a Senator to vote against demands of the populace which he believed unreasonable or unsound.

His philosophy of economic justice was summed up in two sentences from his address as permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention last year:

To what source must the plain people look for a fair division of the product of their labor, multiplied as it has been, in this machine age? . . . Only by intrusting government to those whose constant concern is for the multitude at the bottom rather than the few at the top, yet eager that justice be accorded to all.

Inconspicuous as a close-studying expounder of President Wilson's case for the League of Nations; tremendously—and, to him, surprisingly—conspicuous as the investigator who pried the lid off the Teapot Dome oil scandals; cool-headed and even-handed presider over the turbulent Madison Square Garden convention of his party in 1924, and chosen again to wield the gavel in 1932—these were milestones in the career of the Wisconsin farm boy of Irish parentage who came to the Senate from Montana in 1913. But he also sponsored the appointment of the liberal Justice Louis D. Brandeis to the United States Supreme Court, helped to write the Woman Suffrage and Prohibition Amendments, and was recognized as an authority on constitutional law.

His position as at the same time a Roman Catholic and a dry distinguished him in the eyes of some, but to him and to many of his fellow-churchmen the two doctrines were and are wholly and naturally compatible. In all, Senator Walsh stands a dignified and impressive figure in congressional history, a credit to his state, to his race, his church, his party, and to American public life.

A Day or a Dollar

San Francisco Chronicle

Even in Penalties under the law we have strange survivals from conditions long past. For instance, the penalty for violation of the Trading With the Enemy Act, quoted in the President's proclamation, $10,000 or ten years. This, with its misdemeanor corollary, $10 or ten days, is a traditional kind of penalty. We still use those and even adopt them in modern criminal laws, though they reflect the past, not the present.

Time was when a dollar a day was a working man's wage, and a dollar was considered a fair set off for a day in jail. At that time $1000 a year was a good salary for a white collar man. So a $1000 fine was a fair barter for a year in jail. A dollar a day for petty offenses, and $1000 a year for the bigger crimes—that scale reflected actual conditions forty or fifty years ago. The conditions have changed but the memory still lingers on in the traditional relation of fines to jail terms.

THE WISHING SEASON

I never pass a seedman's store
Without a dream of country ways,
Of hooting birds that sing and soar
And crows that amble forth to graze.
I tire of racking urban noise,
And wish I owned some rural spot
Where I might know the placid joys
Of setting out a garden plot.

I think of little singing rills
That dance and sparkle as they flow
Along their course among the hills
To join the river down below.
I think of gnarled old apple trees
Whose blossoms, falling day and night,
Shed perfume on the quiet breeze
And coat the grass with pink and white.

Spring seems to leave untouched the town;
One never sees the moist dark ground;
The traffic rumbles up and down
And fills the air with waves of sound.
Though here and there the sparrows throng,
In bickering their days are spent;
They lack in grace, they have no song,
But shrill their peevish discontent.

I'd like to lie beside a stream
Which hums a soft and soothing song,
And watch the ripples dance and gleam
Where snowy petals drift along.
I'd like to watch the swallows flit,
To hear the distant cattle moo,
But I'd get rather tired of it
Inside an hour, or maybe two.

Japan isn't unique. No bandit will listen to reason while all the shooting is done by one side.

The strange part is that we didn't notice the water when they spoke of floating bond issues.

If a puppet State is one supported by a stronger government, we know about 48.

Germany has two ways of reducing the number of unemployed—public works and election riots.

FORTUNATELY, YOUR INFERIORITY COMPLEX IS LICKED BY THE TIME YOU MAKE MONEY ENOUGH TO BUY ALL THE THINGS ADVERTISED TO CURE IT.

The chief fault in the party system is that Uncle Sam isn't the party of the first part.

The fact that one State is pardoning bootleggers and another jailing them at least reconciles us to the dictator idea.

Still, a general would fail as a president does if the privates used him as a target.

AMERICANISM: Pleading for reform of this and that; howling in protest when effort is made to give somebody enough authority to reform anything.

Giving him the works: A cruel and heartless proceeding, like giving the creditor the factory.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

IS INFLATION NEEDED?

Many of the current proposals for inflation rest upon the assumption that we are facing an inadequate supply of credit and currency.

Is this true? We are not, in my judgment, suffering from a shortage either of credit or of currency.

There is now in the United States, in a quantitative sense, plenty of credit and plenty of currency to finance and facilitate a sweeping economic revival if other factors, psychological and economic, made such revival feasible.

It is not a shortage either of credit or of currency from which we are suffering, but a shortage of borrowers willing to borrow and lenders willing to lend under existing circumstances.

If we could thaw out the frozen confidence alike of borrower and of lender, the flow of credit and currency would quickly fertilize the fields of national enterprise.

There is more money technically in circulation today in the United States than there was in 1929.

I am aware of course that all of the money that is technically in circulation is not actually in circulation, in the sense of being used in day-to-day business transactions, but may be hoarded and thus sterilized so far as having any effect in raising prices is concerned.

But whatever part of the money technically in circulation has been sterilized, not because of any shortage of currency, but because the hoarders have lacked confidence in the economic situation that would normally thrust their money into actual circulation.

And, unless and until this confidence is restored by the actual removal of the obstacles to effective enterprise, any currency that is forced out through even the valid channels of relief, federal loans, and public works will take its one whirl of spending and then find its way into and freeze in the banks, in socks, and behind loose bricks in the chimney until a restoration of confidence sets it active again.

The imperative first step towards national recovery is not, in my judgment, an inflation of the currency but a restoration of national confidence.

The quantitative facts force me to this conclusion.

CHEATING

No good ever comes of cheating. I suppose one has to learn that by experience if one has not instinctive knowledge about it. Most children hate the idea, but there are some who seem not to understand that there are rules in every game, and rules in life, that honor compels us to observe.

Honor is a delicate sensibility of the human soul. Animals are not expected to have any, but I have known my dog, Patsy, to sit beside a tempting bone and never even muzzle it until somebody in authority came along and gave it to him. It was against the rules for him to touch it, and he abided by them faithfully. He might have cheated and stolen his bone, but he didn't. I think he was honorable about it. It seems to me that children of intelligence ought to be able to get the same idea and abide by it.

Suppose he gets by with it. Suppose the teacher does not see him cheating—she usually discovers that sort of thing very soon—what then? Nothing at all. He has not made any progress. He has gained no power. His weakness is certain to betray him in the hour of need. You can't call on knowledge you do not possess, and you can't use power you haven't got. All that Samuel gets out of it is a bad reputation. He has lost his honor, and with it the respect of his classmates.

Cheating is a sign of weakness. It is the symptom of failure. It is dishonorable. What worse could there be?

QUAKE DEALS DEATH THREE KNOWN DEAD IN SANTA ANA

Quake Continue To Rock Santa Ana And Southland Legionnaires Are Called Out

Three known dead and practically every business block in the downtown area of Santa Ana is the known loss from the more than 16 earthquakes that rocked this city in the early hours.

Two unidentified guests of the Hotel Rossmore, a man and his wife believed to have been from New York, were almost instantly killed during the first tremor. They had just stepped from the doors of the hotel when an avalanche of brick poured down upon them from the roof of the hotel.

Earl W. Adamson, of 1011 North Ross street, died at the Santa Ana Valley hospital shortly after he was taken there for treatment for head injuries received when a building caved in on him, on Fourth street at the time of the first quake.

The body was taken to the Harrel and Brown funeral parlors on West Seventeenth street.

Immediately after the first tremor bombs called American Legion members and members of Headquarters Company and Company L, 185th infantry, California National Guard to report for emergency duty at Legion Hall.

Legionnaires reported at the hall and were assigned to duty under Chief of Police Floyd Howard. The national guard companies were in charge of Capt. James Petit.

Legionnaires patrolled the downtown business district routing automobiles away from the business district where practically every building had been damaged and falling bricks offered a constant menace to pedestrians and motorists.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary established an emergency dressing station in Birch Park to care for persons injured by falling brick.

Immediately after the first temblor streets in the residence district were crowded with persons driven from their homes by the violence of the shake. Lights went off and chimneys tumbled.

The second shake, almost as severe as the first hurled chairs to the floors and shattered window glasses. Following the first shake automobiles flocked to the business area and patrols of the American Legion National Guard and police had difficulty clearing the streets.

Shake after shake bowed the brick buildings in the downtown area and hurled copings and chimneys to the streets. Patrols succeeded in clearing the downtown area advising all motorists to drive completely out of the city and remain until all danger had passed.

According to unverified reports Garden Grove was badly damaged and two persons are reported to have been killed there. In Anaheim the quake was not so severe. Windows in the downtown area were broken and the roof of the S.Q.R. Store, one of the large department stores caved in. A fire started in the store but was extinguished before serious damage had been done.

Sally Durham, of 1111 West Chestnut street, Santa Ana, was injured when she ran from a drug store at Fourth and Spurgeon streets. She was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital for treatment to a badly cut and bruised foot.

The more than 20 earthquakes that rocked the city caused no damage from fire according to a check at the office of Fire Chief John Luxembourg.

The department was called out three times, once to the Smart and Final wholesale grocery where practically the entire stock was ruined when a water main broke inside the store.

The other calls were to Artesia street to extinguish a bonfire and the other was a false alarm.

According to information at the fire department practically the entire stock of the Smart and Final company was damaged when the water main broke. Stock not damaged at the breaking of the main was damaged when thrown to the floor and crushed under falling plaster.

REGISTER ISSUES EXTRA AMIDST SERIES OF QUAKE

The Register got out an extra in the midst of the wildest of confusion tonight.

Braving falling bricks and debris, members of the newspaper's editorial and mechanical departments did the best they could under the conditions to print the news, meager as it was.

Reporters carried desks and typewriters into the middle of Third street and hammered out their stories, with excited citizens milling about, seeking information from other cities.

Lotype operators and floormen "stuck with the ship" inside.

The Register printed the news.

HOARDED GOLD IS RETURNED TO BANKS

NEW YORK, March 10.—(UP)—The greatest flow of hoarded gold to be returned to the federal reserve bank since the bank holiday started, was brought back today.

Pasadena, Long Beach Reported To Have Been Hit Hardest By Tremor

BULLETIN

Latest reports from the United Press via the Long Beach police department at 8 o'clock tonight declared 500 persons were dead, the result of the earthquake and a tidal wave.

Property damage is reported to be terrific.

Three persons were known to be dead in Los Angeles, but property damage is not said to be unusually heavy. Apparently Los Angeles escaped the worst of the quake.

BULLETIN

Late reports from Los Angeles were that the quake which was the severest in history of the district, centered in Compton, which was reported with many casualties. Calls help from that city had been broadcast and police and emergency supplies were being rushed in from surrounding communities.

Two persons were reported killed in San Pedro.

Two were reported killed in Garden Grove.

The worst earthquake in the history of Southern California left death and destruction in its wake tonight.

While details naturally were completely lacking in the terrific confusion, at least two persons were killed in Santa Ana by the tremor which struck this city at precisely 6 p. m.

Hundreds of other structures suffered to varying degrees.

The first quake came at almost exactly 6 o'clock.

It was accompanied by a low roar. It lasted fully 30 seconds. It pulled from side to side.

Chimneys began falling all over the city. Persons ran from their homes into the comparative safety of the streets.

The second temblor came about ten minutes later. It was not as severe as the first.

By that time hundreds of excited Santa Anans were in their automobiles, headed for the business section of the city.

This added to the general and widespread confusion.

Boy scouts, policemen and volunteers patrolled the street corners, directing traffic.

Others guarded Fourth and Main street stores, the windows of which had been bashed in by the quake.

Police car sirens screamed.

After a lapse of about ten minutes another but lighter tremor hit the city.

Like the others it was sharp, and "pulled" from side to side.

It sent downtown pedestrians scurrying into the middle of the streets.

Santa Ana's electric system, thrown off by the first quake, was back in service after approximately 20 minutes.

Los Angeles radio stations continued to broadcast, apparently unaware of the seriousness of the situation.

NO MARTIAL LAW

Santa Ana was not under martial law tonight, but Chief of Police F. W. Howard recruited several hundred American Legion men and soldiers from three national guard units here, and there are patrolling the streets.

All Santa Anans are urged to stay at their homes tonight and not come to the business district.

Police power has been granted to several score who have charge of the various street intersections and while no arrests will be made unless it is necessary, Chief Howard is anxious for the public to know that a serious emergency exists here and that congregation of persons on the streets will not be tolerated.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

SPOTLIGHT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Sheila Shayne, 18, whose parents were well-known vaudeville actors, is in New York looking for a job. She is a dancer. In spite of the fact that she has spent almost her entire life on the stage, her ambition is to marry and have a home like those she has seen in small towns in which she has played.

On a few hours' notice she is hired to play the place of Daisy Diction, another dancer, who has sprained an ankle. Sheila goes to Joe Paris' office in "The Dan Ality" to rehearse. There she meets Trevor Lane and Dick Stanley, both rich. Lane asks Sheila to dance at a party he is giving, but she refuses, knowing that after a day of rehearsing and the performance that night she will be too tired. She goes to the theater, and there meets Phil Short, an old acquaintance.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VII

Sheila was glad to see someone she knew—even an old sweetheart like Phil Short. A sweetheart who, as a matter of fact, had dropped her suddenly without warning. Why had Phil stopped coming to see her? Why had he stopped telephoning? Sheila had never known.

As nonchalantly as though nothing had happened, as though he had seen her only a few days before, Phil stood there. Well, nothing had happened, really. After would have called a rush Phil had simply disappeared.

Perhaps he had had a bad year, though now he seemed prosperous. Saxophones are well paid even in off-seasons. And Phil himself had once pointed out that it isn't what the most caustic observer saves that counts. Living had become cheaper.

In spite of the hearty greeting and the nonchalant manner, Sheila saw almost at once that Phil wore a harassed look. Even with an old score to pay off, she felt sorry for him.

"So you're taking Daisy's place?" he was saying. "That's fine, Sheila. I've often wondered what you were doing."

"Wasn't the telephone working down your way?" she asked, half vexed, half laughing.

"I—I couldn't call you," Phil began. Plainly he was embarrassed. "But that doesn't mean I didn't think about you."

"Well, thoughts keep a person warm in the winter," was her response, the caustic phrase borrowed from Ma Lowell. Then Sheila related.

"Of course I'll have dinner with you. We can't be long, though."

"There's a little place near," Phil explained.

During the dinner he explained other things. Upon leaving Ma Lowell's rooming house, said Phil, he had married. Yes, married. His face clouded a trifle as he said the word, and it was evident that the marriage was not, for some reason, a happy one. He was vague about it. The girl's name was Mildred. She came from his home town—somewhere near Des Moines.

Just now, with conditions as they were, Mildred was living with Phil's parents. Sheila gathered that the daughter-in-law—stranger—place in the hearts of the Short family than did the son. "The folks think the world and all of Milly," was the way Phil put it.

The dinner was excellent, though hurried. Sheila ordered lightly, as Phil did also, for both had the performance to think of. The act would go on in three-quarters of an hour.

The young man was friendly, agreeable. It was nice to see Phil again. In show business one couldn't always account for sudden departures, failures to explain omitted farewells. By the time she reached the dressing room, Sheila felt rather friendly toward her old admirer and a little sorry for Mildred. Though his attitude toward Sheila had been above reproach, there was no denying the fact that Phil was a flirt.

Back in the dressing room, the "art dancers," as Lottie had some-what scornfully dubbed them, had returned from a half hour's energetic posing, their scarfs trailing, their classic robes in pastel shades tossed about in confusion. They

was a blond, too, but there was a difference. The two youthful dancers had honey-colored hair which obviously grew that way without benefit of art or decoration.

However, Lottie might feel, Sheila soon was aware that these girls were not trying to appear superior. They were not cheap. Sheila would have told you. The shabby little street suits which they were busily donning were well cut and reminded Sheila of the clothes worn by the smartest "Follies" girl. Dark, plain, unostentatious and expensive. Not fluffy or loud as so many chorus girls' costumes. Their hats were just hats—

Jenny Wren Bakes More For Less

For housewives who want the "most and best for less"—JENNY WREN, the all-purpose, economy flour will point the way to new baking economies. This finest of flours never fails—it's recipe-mixed at the mill, ready-to-use for hundreds of different baking treats. Cheap, because there'll be no "throw-a-ways"—best because it's made that way! Buy a package of JENNY WREN (4 lbs.) and try this delightful recipe:

Shrimp a La Newburg

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons JENNY WREN flour
A few grains cayenne pepper
2 cups rich milk
2 cups fresh cooked or canned shrimp
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon cooking sherry
or lemon juice

Melt butter, add JENNY WREN FLOUR and cayenne pepper and mix well. Add milk gradually and bring to boiling point. Stir constantly. Add shrimp. Just before serving add the beaten egg yolks and flavoring. Garnish with parsley and thin strips of pimento, and serve over hot JENNY WREN biscuits. This makes 6 large or 8 medium servings. Tuna fish may be used in this recipe instead of shrimp.—Adv. (17)

A WORD OF COMFORT

Merely knowing that wrong doing in his part will add his mother, will not deter child from bad conduct unless he loves his mother dearly.

The recognition of God's love for you will not give power for righteousness in your life except as you learn to love Him. Your love for Him cannot grow strong except as you commune with Him and strive to live worthily for His sake.

As you give rein to your love for Him, your duty will become clear and your tasks easy. He will sustain and guide you so that you can live triumphantly.

WILL EFFECT ORGANIZATION. OUTLINE WORK

Permanent organization of the county-wide debt and tax conciliation committee will be effected Monday night at a dinner-meeting to be held at Ketter's cafe. The meeting is being called by R. D. Flaherty, as executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Formation of the committee was sponsored by the Farm Bureau and in his letter calling the organization meeting Flaherty is asking that all organizations and groups to be represented on the committee send their permanent representatives to the conference.

Organizations participating in formation of the conciliatory and arbitration group are: Associated Chambers of Commerce, board of supervisors, superior court, Orange County Farm association, Orange County Building and Loan association, American Legion, Costa Mesa Taxpayers' association, banking houses and the Farm Bureau.

At the Monday night session, which is scheduled to start at 6:30 p. m., a permanent organization will be effected and a chairman and secretary elected. A program of procedure also will be outlined for adoption.

Following its organization the committee will start functioning as a voluntary arbitration or conciliation committee before which any persons in distressed conditions due to threatened mortgage or trust deed foreclosure on his home or farm, who has not been able to reach some agreement with his creditors for maintaining and possession of his property during this present trying period, can present his case.

Work of the committee has been greatly assisted, according to Flaherty, through the legislature yesterday adopting an emergency measure declaring a 60-day moratorium on mortgage foreclosures. This moratorium will give the committee opportunity to place its program in operation.

What Life Insurance Has Done During These Depression Years

PAID TO LIVING POLICY-HOLDERS 1930 - 31 - 32

POLICY LOANS $2,048,678,000.00

MATURED ENDOWMENTS 230,948,000.00

SURRENDER VALUES 1,414,252,000.00

DIVIDENDS 212,583,000.00

OTHER PAYMENTS 337,882,000.00

TOTAL $4,244,343,000.00

Death Claims and the Above Amount Combined Total $6,169,009,000.00

These are actual cash disbursements. The figures are taken from the records of 48 of the leading companies holding 86.4 per cent of the admitted assets of all old line life insurance companies in the United States.

This cash went to every city and town throughout the nation.

RECEIPTS BY THE SAME COMPANIES IN THE SAME THREE YEARS PERIOD

PREMIUMS $7,586,082,000.00

INTEREST, DIVIDENDS AND RENT 2,195,116,000.00

TOTAL $9,781,198,000.00

Deducting cash payments to policyholders and beneficiaries other than policy loans, there was a cash residue of $5,660,867,000.00. A large margin for safety, counting all payments there was a cash residue of $3,612,189,000.00 over 36.9 per cent.

INCREASE IN ASSETS

ON DECEMBER 31, 1929 16,000,000,000.00

INCREASE $3,000,000,000.00

Certainly an institution which can solve the complexity of problems that life insurance has solved during the past three years, meets all of its policyholders' extraordinary demands for cash, and still shows almost a 19 per cent gain in assets, is an institution founded upon the most nearly perfect system of cooperative saving, investment and protection yet devised.

ANAHEIM BOOST BODY ACTS ON WATER MEASURE

The Anaheim Chamber of Commerce yesterday accepted part of the recommendation made them by the water committee and endorsed two parts of the Orange County Water District bill, which has been under study for the past several weeks and is now before the state legislature. The board meeting was held in the Elks clubhouse.

The Anaheim Chamber of Commerce board voted for the first two of the four parts in the bill, namely, to protect water rights in the county and to take care of flood waters.

The endorsement followed an explanation of the bill made by Paul Bailey, engineer, of Santa Ana. All questions were answered by A. W. Rutan, also of Santa Ana.

The water committee has been studying this bill and meeting with representatives from the other cities in the Metropolitan Water district, Fullerton and Santa Ana. It was their recommendation that brought the bill before the civic body. On the committee are Dean Wayne, Louis Hoskins, J. W. Price, Leo Sheridan and George W. Reid.

Raid, as secretary of the chamber of commerce, was instructed to write to the state legislature and notify the body that the Anaheim chamber has endorsed the resolution asking that eight of the 16 trustees to the board of regents of the University of California be selected from the southern part of the state and eight from the northern part of the state.

COURT NAMES BLYTHE ESTATE ADMINISTRATOR

L. K. Stamps of Downey, recently appointed special administrator of the estate of Dr. Vernon Blythe through an order signed this morning by Presiding Judge G. K. Seovel, of the superior court.

At the time of filing petition for appointment of Stamps as special administrator, Z. B. West, attorney for Stamps, filed a petition for his appointment as permanent administrator. Stamps recently was appointed guardian of young Blythe, 15-year-old son of the Santa Ana dentist who was orphaned several weeks ago when his father killed his estranged wife, a younger son and then committed suicide.

Objection to the appointment of Stamps as permanent administrator for the estate is expected to be entered by Mrs. Mary E. Blythe, of Los Angeles, mother of the late Dr. Blythe. Mrs. Blythe already has filed a petition in Los Angeles seeking to be appointed guardian of the Blythe boy and a second petition asking appointment as administrator.

At the hearing in Los Angeles on her application for appointment as guardian of the boy, West objected on the grounds that Stamps already had been appointed in the courts of Orange county. The court in Los Angeles sustained the objection on jurisdictional grounds.

In sustaining the objection the court declared that the guardianship petition could have been filed in either Los Angeles or Orange county but as it had been filed in Orange county it could not be attacked in the Los Angeles court. Such action, according to the ruling, would have to be launched in Orange county.

Editor, Santa Ana Register:

Was there ever a time in the history of our country when there was so great a need for safe depositories for the people's savings as now?

Would it not be great if the citizens of Santa Ana had a bank owned, controlled and operated by the Federal government in which to deposit their money?

Although the need is so very great, yet the demand for such an institution is small. A crying need with so small a demand is not easy to understand.

There is a great demand just now by depositors for the government to guarantee their deposits, but just why these depositors wish to deposit their money in private banks and then have the government guarantee the safe-keeping and safe investment is no small wonder to the writer.

If the Federal government must insure depositors against the loss of their deposits, then the wise and only practical way to do this is to do it directly, without the intervention of any other institution whatever.

Confidence can never be restored in a system or institution that has proven itself to be an "abject failure."

We must put "new wine in new bottles" if we would go forward and build the new civilization which is the desire of all nations.

HOLLAND MOTIF USED AT MARCH CHURCH EVENT

ORANGE, March 10.—The wooden shoes and quaint costumes, so closely associated with Holland, were greatly in evidence yesterday when the March group of hostesses for the Friendship chain of the First Presbyterian church entertained other women of the church with a tea, the theme of which was centered around Holy Land. Mrs. H. S. Taylor headed the hostess group.

Gay prints of scenes in Holland and of the people of that country, decorated the walls of the lower auditorium of the church where the tea took place and a calendar direct from Holland and a map of the country were loaned to the group through the courtesy of Dr. L. Was of Santa Ana.

Mrs. E. H. Smith, head of the chain for the year introduced the chairman of the day, Mrs. Anna Dilley, in a costume direct from Holland, made a charming Dutch girl, as she related the story of a Dutch girl's life and the everyday events which take place in Holland. Mrs. Dilley's father was a native of Holland. Mrs. Dilley told of the wide fireplaces in the homes and of the extreme cleanliness, where windows are washed both inside and out each week and where no one is allowed to wear their shoes inside the homes. All changes in the business world are made on May 13, Mrs. Dilley said.

Dutch folk dances and songs were given by two charming little girls, Joan Barker and Billie Switzer. A history of the art of Holland and a resume of the commercial world as well as a history of religion, were given by Mrs. Jerry Youngs. Of especial interest were the portions of the talk which told of the pilgrims' sojourn in Holland before they set sail for America.

Johnnie Stout, talented young violinist and equally talented pianist, Miss Olive Switzer, were heard in violin and piano selections and Miss Elsie Jacobs gave a folk dance and song. Miss Emily Joost and her sister, little Miss Sally Ann Joost, were accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Henry G. Joost, as they sang a Dutch lullaby. Mrs. C. B. Harper, in a Dutch man's costume made in Holland, gave an amusing reading.

John Spykerman, of Anaheim, a native of Holland, gave a short talk, telling of the pleasure that was his at seeing the many articles about the room which had come from Holland where he had lived as a boy.

Exercises which are common in Holland, were given by a group of high school girls, Malinda Walker, Doris Asher, Helen Price, Clara Meyer, Alberta Hill, Della Shepherd and Bethene Hedrick. Miss Asher sang a solo earlier on the program and she was accompanied by Miss Nancy Herrington.

Tea was served and tables were centered with Dutch figurines and candles. Mrs. L. Meyer had on display a brass dustpan which had been in her family for many years and which was used and made in Holland. Mrs. Michael Easton, furnished a cloth with which one of the tea tables was spread, the cover being hand woven and embroidered by Mrs. Estock when she was a girl in Czechoslovakia.

The decorations were arranged by Mrs. Henry Meier and the program by Mrs. Dilley. Hostesses nearly all of whom were in Dutch costumes included Mesdames Anna Dilley, A. O. Clifford, William Cook, B. M. Culter, C. W. Hollister, Lynde, Henry Meier, W. A. Settle, W. E. Anderson, Ross Anthony, E. G. Athey, Clarence Baker, W. F. Crist, O. K. Dean, N. T. Edwards, Vernon Jenkins, H. G. # STORE HELD UP AND ROBBED OF $75 BY BANDIT

card that was thrust across the desk at him at 5:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon, J. E. McNair, manager of the Safeway store at Helena and Center streets read "You're being held up. Act natural or I will blow your head off. Give me the paper money as if making change. You're well covered. Act quick."

Looking up McNair saw himself confronted by a well dressed man of approximately 25 years. He was shown a revolver. McNair showed him some one dollar bills, but jerking the gun menacingly the bandit said:

"I want all of it." McNair shoved

CLARK RITES ARE HELD IN PASADENA

Bird Cross and Earl Johnson of Anaheim sang for the services.

HI SCHOOL BOARD PUTS BUDGET OFF

ANAHEIM, March 10.—Unable to make plans for the budgeting of the next school year, because of important educational legislation pending before the state assembly, the board of trustees for the Anaheim Union High school met last evening to transact regular business.

"No plans can be made for next year," J. A. Claves, principal of the school declared this morning, "until the state legislature has acted. This may be three months."

Out of the 4,500 flowers grown in Europe, only 420 have an agreeable perfume.

She will engage in informal conversation with Hill for the purpose of revealing the incidents that brought her international fame.

An interesting program to be released at 3 p. m. tomorrow over KJH is entitled "A Mother Looks at a President." It is a group of anecdotes told to Isabelle Leighton by Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mieczyslaw Munz, noted Polish pianist, will be the featured soloist on the last of the current series of Children's concerts given by the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Ernst Schelling, at 8 a. m. tomorrow. Munz will be heard in a reading of the Mozart Concerto in D minor. Schelling will close the series of elementary programs for children, with Sibyllus "Swan of Tuonela" and Borodin's "Polovetzian Dances."

A new series of weekly recitals of Norwegian and Danish folksongs will make its debut over the Columbia network including KJH from 1 to 1:15 p. m. tomorrow, featuring Sigurd Nilssen, "Sigurd the Viking" is a concert artist known to music lovers both in this country and abroad. difficult to describe but suave and sure of themselves.

Sheila worked on at the dressing table. Lottie's specialty came first and then Sheila's—with a wait between while the band, elegant in evening clothes, performed.

Her hair would do, though she was sorry there had not been time for a shampoo and wave. Now that the exchequer was about to be replenished, Sheila could afford that.

She lighted the tiny lamp, melted the cosmetic in the little "frying pan" and beaded her lashes carefully. Darkened her lids with blue make-up, crimsoned her lips with generous strokes, dabbed rouge high on her cheek bones. Close at hand she looked grotesque, anything but alluring. But beyond the footlights the patches of color would be subdued to a natural blush, a hazy loveliness, glowing and sparkling with health.

Next came her hose, carefully smoothed on, and her dancing slippers. A silken slip and then Daisy's frilled gown, tight at the waist and billowing to her knees. If it had been fitted to Sheila it could not have been more suitable. She would wear it for the first number, Lottie, rather grand and aloof in a tiara and sweeping blue satin, watched as Sheila pronounced across the dressing room.

"I'd take this other dress up a little more on the side," Miss Kilcoyne suggested, turning from inspection of her own huge pink hair ribbon. Lottie agreed, catching needle and thread from her overnight bag.

Sheila shuffled a few steps, winced, smiled, tapped energetically, warming up. The band was playing the first number. Lottie, clearing her throat, caught up a chiffon handkerchief the size of a lunch cloth and left hurriedly for the wings. The art dancers, still in their street clothes, returning two by two from dinner, eyed Sheila curiously, and had she but known it, enviously.

"Nervous?" one of the honey-colored blonds asked, smiling. Sheila smiled, too, and shrugged. Of course she was nervous! But it was like the excited nervousness of a circus horse sniffing sawdust after a long vacation. Soon she would be out there in the glare of the footlights. Phil, Roscoe and the rest would be behind her. An audience, hostile or friendly, in front. A sea of faces swimming across her vision.

The orchestra was bringing Lottie's number to a close with a blare, Applause, not voluminous but encouraging. There Lottie was taking a bow. And another! That was a mistake—forcing the bows that way. Sheila liked to be hustled back to the stage, hand in hand with the band leader, bowing shyly, backing out before the audience was willing to relinquish her. But to force applause was bad business. Presently the clapping became milder, merely a polite patter.

Sheila stood in the wings. Roscoe waved his baton, Phil nodded and the band crashed into melody. Two bars. Three bars. How did it go? Oh—this way! Sheila ran on. Now she was dancing! Dancing to a full house, too.

Turn-tum-tum, turn-tum. "Don't take that last turn there, baby!" She could hear Bill Brady's admonishing tone, still hear his "ta-ta, ta-ta!" Sheila didn't fake the turn. It was glorious. Skimming like a bit of thistledown. Dancing on a breath of wind.

Across the stage, then back again, this time progressing slowly. Hands crossing in front, head bent just a bit, feet flying. She had it down pat! Turn-tum-tum! Turn-tum-tum!

Now a run up the stage, a few steps around Roscoe, who beamed as she skimmed past him, his baton flicking in approval. She darted toward him, whisked away coquettishly as Bill had taught her.

The saxophone droned a few bars unaltered and, shielded by Roscoe's bulk, Phil winked at her. Roscoe nodded smiling. It was all in the act, of course, but Sheila knew he was pleased. Sheila, too, was pleased. This was like old

McIntosh Meat News

SANTA ANNA ~ HUNTINGTON BEACH

ANNOUNCEMENT

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS:—

Due to the Bank Holiday and restricted shipments of live stock from the east, there has been a sharp advance in price on all meat products. However, our connection with the J. W. McIntosh Packing Plant and the facilities of our own large modern equipped refrigeration and cold storage plant in this market, has made it possible to retain for the remainder of this week, the same low standard of prices we have given you previous to this time. In other words there will be no advance in retail prices in our markets Friday and Saturday.

In anticipation of this price advance, the McIntosh Packing Plant bought heavily, and filled their feed yards to capacity with choice grain fed BABY BEEF, HOGS and LAMBS, purchased especially for RAY MCINTOSH MARKETS. Every available space in our own huge coolers is packed with meat products and provisions of all kinds. May we suggest that you buy generously of meat products this week, especially smoked meats, lard and shortening, as it will be impossible to replace any of this merchandise at the prices we are offering to you.

We want to take this opportunity to thank you for your patronage and to assure you we are putting forth every effort at all times to make you DOLLAR go a little farther.

Yours Very Truly,
RAY MCINTOSH.

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—(UP)—

Market News Service

Rabbits—Under five pounds, 1 lb. f. o. b. Los Angeles, 8 and 9 cents.

LOS ANGELES—The market tone was firm due to hucksters being unable to purchase in country points because of lack of cash. The demand on most classes was only fair, with broilers in a firm position, and most of purchases made at 15c. Colored fowl was firm in most quarters with buyers operating on a conservative basis.
